

GENETIC ENGINEERING REVIEW QUESTION

In the space provided list, describe and illustrate the steps of DNA recombination

1. A restriction enzyme cuts the plasmid DNA of a bacteria.
2. The same restriction enzyme then cuts the gene out of the human DNA.
3. A ligase enzyme now attaches the human gene into the open bacterial plasmid.
4. With the human gene in the DNA bacteria, now the bacteria can make a human protein.
5. Since the bacteria does not need the human protein, we can take the protein and use it for our own medicinal purposes.

List and explain as many uses of genetic engineering as possible:

1. Creation of insulin protein.
2. Creation of human growth hormone
3. Creation of pest/disease/frost resistant agriculture.
4. Creation of bacteria that will digest oil/sewage.

Sexton,2025-07-15 Society s most basic challenge is arguably to produce and distribute enough food for its citizens In 2023 733 million people faced hunger and 2 3 billion were moderately or severely food insecure Feeding a growing world population is becoming more difficult in the face of climate change pest resistance to traditional treatments and misguided government policies that limit how much food ends up on our plates Policies to support biofuels organic agriculture local foods and small farms and to oppose genetically modified foods all reduce food production on existing land This leads to higher food prices increased carbon emissions and less natural habitat as cropland expands Food Fight documents the challenges to adequately feeding the world in the twenty first century and illustrates the ways in which contemporary food policies in the United States Europe and beyond imperil food security Richard J Sexton provides a window into the world of modern agriculture and food supply chains He separates the wheat from the chaff to distinguish policies that will limit or expand the global food supply and he explains how we can construct a food system that forestalls future hunger and environmental degradation
