Constructing Crime Janet Mosher, Joan Brockman, 2010-05-10 Constructing Crime examines the central question Why do we define and enforce particular behaviours as crimes and target particular individuals as criminals To answer this question contributors interrogate notions of crime processes of criminalization and the deployment of the concept of crime in five radically different sites the enforcement of fraud against welfare recipients and physicians the enforcement of laws against Aboriginal harvesting practices the perceptions of incivilities or disorder in public housing projects and the selective criminalization of gambling By demonstrating that how crime is defined and enforced is connected to social location and status these interdisciplinary case studies and an afterword by Marie Andr e Bertrand challenge us to consider just who is rendered criminal and why This timely volume will appeal to policy makers and students and practitioners of law criminology and sociology Child Welfare in America Yvonne Vissing, 2025-01-09 This one stop resource explores the leading child welfare issues facing the USA today as well as the laws programs and policy prescriptions that have been implemented or suggested to address pressing child welfare problems In doing so the book surveys the perspectives of lawmakers child advocacy organizations and scholars as well as parents and children Moving through centuries of US history Child Welfare in America ranges from the child labor practices of the nineteenth century to contemporary anxieties about affordable child care underperforming schools screen time and social media pressures and abusive family environments Readers will better understand the range of factors affecting child welfare including the cost of good child care alcohol and drug abuse in family settings homelessness educational opportunities teen pregnancy and more The book also surveys the perspectives of lawmakers child advocacy organizations and scholars as well as parents and children Profiles of important advocacy organizations agencies and individuals outline the approaches to child welfare issues and policies throughout the centuries

Poverty, Regulation & Social Justice Diane Crocker, Val Marie Johnson, 2021-01-10T00:00:00Z Emerging from a public colloquium on the criminalization of poverty this volume critically interrogates how state and private practices have increasingly come to over regulate people with severely limited economic resources and understands this regulation as part of the dynamics of liberal capitalism Exploring issues such as homelessness social assistance and single mothers and written from a diversity of perspectives from academics to frontline workers policy makers and those affected first hand by these practices this book aims to help readers imagine a more compassionate future Policing Black Lives Robyn

Maynard,2025-08-22 This revised and expanded edition of Robyn Maynard's bestselling Policing Black Lives offers a comprehensive account of policing Black life in Canada. Maynard documents how a half a century of police reforms have expanded the scope and scale of policing and perpetuated anti-Black violence. Offering a compelling vision for making policing obsolete in the wake of global Black uprisings in 2020, this essential text will guide and inspire activists, students, scholars, and all those working toward Black futures beyond surveillance and confinement. Federal Register, 1979-06

Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Committee on Finance United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Finance, 1971 Semiannual Report United States. Department of Health and Human Services. Office of Inspector General, 1984 Marginality and Condemnation, 3rd Edition Carolyn Brooks, Bernard Schissel, 2021-12-13T00:00:00Z Includes test bank and PowerPoint slides for professors who have adopted the text in their course. Contact examrequest@fernpub.ca for more information. This well-received criminology textbook, now in its third edition, argues that crime must be understood as both a social and a political phenomenon. Using this lens, Marginality and Condemnation contends that what is defined as criminal, how we respond to crime, and why individuals behave in anti-social ways are often the result of individual and systemic social inequalities and disparities in power. Beginning with an overview of criminological discourse, mainstream approaches, and new directions in criminological theory, the book is then divided into sections based on key social inequalities of class, gender, race, and age, each of which begins with an outline of the general issues for understanding crime and an introduction that guides readers through the empirical chapters that follow. The studies provide insights into general issues in criminology, ranging from the historical and current nature of crime and criminal justice to the various responses to criminality. Readers are encouraged and challenged to understand crime and justice through concrete analyses rather than abstract argumentation. In addition to a new introductory chapter that confronts how we define crime, measure crime, and understand and use criminology in this millennium, the third edition provides new chapters examining crime in relation to the environment, terrorism, masculinity, children and youth, and Aboriginal gangs and the legacy of colonialism. Longing for Belonging among the Marginalized in Urban Australia Ritsuko Kurita, 2024-09-23 Longing for Belonging among the Marginalized in Urban Australia examines how Indigenous people, African refugees, and impoverished Whites in urban Australia, who are deemed undesirable citizens under neoliberal governance, experience citizenship in their everyday lives. Drawing on ethnography conducted in Adelaide and Sydney from 2014 to 2020, along with digital ethnography, it elucidates a new sense of belonging being developed across these groups that is mediated by their shared experiences of displacement and predicaments. While individuals of these groups are marginalized due to the reinforcement of race and homogenization of welfare beneficiaries as morally deficient and are ashamed to be aware of their norm violations, a cross-group sense of belonging has emerged that transverse racial and ethnic differences. It is based on mutual care, compassion, and empathy or a community mediated by the ethics of care, fostering a sense of belonging among members who, according to other paradigms of relatedness might be seen as separate or unequal Ritsuko Kurita maintains that this new sense of belonging rooted in caring for others can contribute to the development of horizontal citizenship by temporarily bridging differences in race ethnicity class and gender which can challenge neoliberal citizenship that values economic rationality self autonomy and individualism Poor-bashing Jean Swanson,2001 The special language of poor bashing disguises the real causes of poverty hurts and excludes people who are poor cheapens the labour of people who have jobs and takes the pressure off the rich Swanson a twenty five year veteran of anti poverty work exposes the ideology of poor bashing in a clear forceful style She examines how media poornography operates when reporters cover poverty stories She also reveals how government and corporate clients use poor bashing focus groups To make the book even more useful Swanson includes key chapters on the history of poor bashing Adam Smith's Islands John C. Weaver,2025-04-01 Many developed countries restructured relations between state and economy from the late 1970s into the 1990s Among them New Zealand went far fast and left a clear trail making it possible to study economic restructuring as it occurred with all the debates uncertainty surprises mistakes and accomplishments this entailed Adam Smith s Islands reveals the inside life of a government determined to revolutionize its nation s politics and economy While the 1980s economic restructuring of members of the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development and former Warsaw Pact countries can seem like a foregone conclusion from the vantage point of the twenty first century John Weaver examines how local and global institutions had to come together to implement social adjustments in New Zealand Mounting evidence that the state had not functioned as an effective manager split the business community and primary producers between defenders of subsidization and free market insurgents Reforms undertaken by the governing Labour Party included abandoning currency controls privatizing state run businesses ending a multitude of open and disguised subsidies tightening fiscal responsibility and reforming taxation Adam Smith s Islands focuses on the verifiable direct primary sources from dozens of state collections and deposits of personal papers The archival cornucopia informing this history supports a narrative that has little in common with intellectual histories of neoliberalism To understand how the relationship between the economy and the state changed we need to grasp how and why core institutions practices and cultural beliefs shed some of their once potent legitimacy Through the lens of New Zealand Adam Smith s Islands examines larger questions about policy dilemmas the global flow of capital and the sustainability of social adjustments in economic restructuring In so doing it casts new light on the formation and history of what is casually labelled today as the neoliberal state California. Court of Appeal (5th Appellate District). Records and Briefs California (State).,

Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Agriculture and Forestry,1975 Poverty Margot Young,Susan Boyd,Gwen Brodsky,Shelagh Day,2011-11-01 Recent years have seen the retrenchment of Canadian social programs and the restructuring of the welfare state along neo liberal lines Social programs at both the federal and the provincial levels have been cut back eliminated or recast in exclusionary and punitive forms Poverty Rights Social Citizenship and Legal Activism responds to these changes by examining the ideas and practices of human rights citizenship legislation and institution building that are crucial to addressing poverty in this country The essays in this volume investigate current trends in social political and legal anti poverty activism They challenge prevailing assumptions about the role of governments and the methods of accountability in the field of social and economic justice Through their analysis of rights advocacy and the interconnectedness of law and politics the contributors also demonstrate that the fight for social and economic justice is vibrant and of critical importance
