Copyright Office,1971 Engineering News and American Railway Journal ,1890 Making Schools American Cody D. Ewert,2022-04-19 How school reformers in the Progressive Era who envisioned the public school as the quintessential American institution laid the groundwork for contemporary battles over the structure and curriculum of public schools Around the turn of the twentieth century a generation of school reformers began touting public education s unique capacity to unite a diverse and diffuse citizenry while curing a broad swath of social and political ills They claimed that investing in education would equalize social and economic relations strengthen democracy and create high caliber citizens equipped for the twentieth century all while preserving the nation s sacred traditions More than anything they pitched the public school as a quintessentially American institution a patriotic symbol in its own right and the key to perfecting the American experiment In Making Schools American Cody Dodge Ewert makes clear that nationalism was the leading argument for schooling during the Progressive Era Bringing together case studies of school reform crusades in New York Utah and Texas he explores what was gained and lost as efforts to transform American schools evolved across space and time Offering fresh insight into the development and politicization of public schooling in America Ewert also reveals how reformers utopian visions and lofty promises laid the groundwork for contemporary battles over the mission and methods of American public schools Despite their divergent political visions and the unique conditions of the states cities and individual districts they served school reformers wielded nationalistic rhetoric that made education a rallying point for Americans across lines of race class religion and region But ultimately Making Schools American argues upholding education as a potential solution to virtually every societal problem has hamstrung broader attempts at social reform while overburdening schools Design Computing and Cognition '08 John S. Gero,Ashok K. Goel,2008-09-27 The importance of research and education in design continues to grow For example government agencies are gradually increasing funding of design research and increasing numbers of engineering schools are revising their curricula to emphasize design This is because of an increasing realization that design is part of the wealth creation of a nation and needs to be better understood and taught The continuing globalization of industry and trade has required nations to re examine where their core contributions lie if not in production efficiency Design is a precursor to manufacturing for phy cal objects and is the precursor to implementation for virtual objects At the same time the need for sustainable development is requiring design of new products and processes and feeding a movement towards design novations and inventions There are now three sources for design research design computing design cognition and human centered information technology The foun tions for much of design computing remains artificial intelligence with its focus on ways of representation and on processes that support simulation and generation Artificial intelligence continues to provide an environm tally rich paradigm within which design research based on computational constructions can be carried out Design cognition is founded on concepts from cognitive science an even newer area than artificial intelligence It provides tools and methods to study human designers in both laboratory and practice settings
