

Mother Teresa

Mother Teresa was born Agnes Gonxha Bojaxhio on the 27th of August 1910 in Skopje. Today Skopje is the capital of the independent Republic of Macedonia. Gonxha (which means a flower bud) grew up in a wealthy Catholic Albanian family. She was brought up very religiously by her parents. Her father died unexpectedly when she was ten.

At the age of twelve, she strongly felt the call of God and decided that she wanted to spend her life as a nun. She was inspired to do so by the news of work done in India by a missionary. She followed her dream to become a nun passionately. At the age of 18 she was accepted into an Irish Catholic organization called the Loreto Order.

This organization and its members were especially devoted to education in India. Their mission was to post nuns to help the poor. After two months, she was allowed to follow her dream and she joined the Loreto Order in Bengal. She took her first vow in Calcutta to devote her life to God. She spent the following 17 years in St. Mary's School in Calcutta (now Kolkata). First she worked as a teacher. She was later promoted to governor.

It was on one of her journeys through the vast city of Calcutta in 1946 that she felt God's second calling to help the poor. She realized in order to help the poor she must live with them. She was given permission to leave the Loreto Order but still keep the status as a nun. Mother Teresa made the decision to live among the poorest of the poor in the slums of Calcutta. She became known as the "Saint of the Gutters".
