National Bureau of Standards,1921 Circular of the Bureau of Standards ,1921 Chicago's Industrial Decline Robert Lewis,2020-12-15 In Chicago s Industrial Decline Robert Lewis charts the city s decline since the 1920s and describes the early development of Chicago s famed and reviled growth machine Beginning in the 1940s and led by local politicians downtown business interest financial institutions and real estate groups place dependent organizations in Chicago implemented several industrial renewal initiatives with the dual purpose of stopping factory closings and attracting new firms in order to turn blighted property into modern industrial sites At the same time a more powerful coalition sought to adapt the urban fabric to appeal to middle class consumption and residential living As Lewis shows the two aims were never well integrated and the result was on going disinvestment and the inexorable decline of Chicago s industrial space By the 1950s Lewis argues it was evident that the early incarnation of the growth machine had failed to maintain Chicago s economic center in industry Although larger economic and social forces specifically competition for business and for residential development from the suburbs in the Chicagoland region and across the whole United States played a role in the city s industrial decline Lewis stresses the deep incoherence of post WWII economic policy and urban planning that hoped to square the circle by supporting both heavy industry and middle to upper class amenities in downtown Chicago Physical Properties of Materials United States.
