Island Of Tears:

Island of Hope, Island of Tears David M. Brownstone, Irene M. Franck, Douglass L. Brownstone, 1996-11 Between 1892 and the early 1950s nearly fifteen million people streamed through Ellis Island in search of a new life Though it closed as a federal immigration station in 1954 the landmark island was restored and reopened in 1990 as a museum run by the National Park Service thus preserving the heritage of the more than 100 million Americans who can trace their immigrant roots there

Hope and Tears Gwenyth Swain, 2012-03-01 An original collection of voices filled with hope and tears chronicles the history of Ellis Island and the people it served Indians settlers immigrants inspectors doctors nurses cooks and social workers all played a big part in that history Author Gwenyth Swain reimagines the lives of those who landed lived and worked on the island through fictional letters monologues dialogues and e mails basing them on historical documentation and real life people In doing so she creates a moving picture of their struggles and triumphs Illustrated with poignant and affecting photographs this is a unique exploration of Ellis Island s history Includes further resources bibliography and source notes

Island of hope, island of tears David M. Brownstone, Irene M. Franck, Douglass L. Brownstone, 2000 A story of those who entered the new world through Ellis Island in their own words The Aesthetics of Island Space Johannes Riquet, 2019-12-18 Oxford Textual Perspectives is a series of informative and provocative studies focused upon literary texts conceived of in the broadest sense of that term and the technologies cultures and communities that produce inform and receive them It provides fresh interpretations of fundamental works and of the vital and challenging issues emerging in English literary studies By engaging with the materiality of the literary text its production and reception history and frequently testing and exploring the boundaries of the notion of text itself the volumes in the series question familiar frameworks and provide innovative interpretations of both canonical and less well known works The Aesthetics of Island Space discusses islands as central figures in the modern experience of space It examines the spatial poetics of islands in literary texts from Shakespeare s The Tempest to Ghosh s The Hungry Tide in the journals of explorers and scientists such as James Cook and Charles Darwin and in Hollywood cinema It traces the ways in which literary and cinematic islands have functioned as malleable spatial figures that offer vivid perceptual experiences as well as a geopoetic oscillation between the material energies of words and images and the energies of the physical world The chapters focus on America s island gateways Roanoke and Ellis Island visions of tropical islands Tahiti and imagined South Sea islands the islands of the US Canadian border region in the Pacific Northwest and the imaginative appeal of mutable islands It argues that modern voyages of discovery posed considerable perceptual and cognitive challenges to the experience of space and that these challenges were negotiated in complex and contradictory ways via poetic engagement with islands Discussions of island narratives in postcolonial theory have broadened understanding of how islands have been imagined as geometrical abstractions bounded spaces easily subjected to the colonial gaze There is however a second story of islands in the Western imagination which runs parallel to this colonial story In this alternative account the modern experience of islands in the age of discovery went hand in hand with a disintegration of received models of understanding global space Drawing on and rethinking post phenomenological geocritical and geopoetic theories The Aesthetics of Island Space argues that the modern experience of islands as mobile and shifting territories implied a dispersal fragmentation and diversification of spatial experience and it explores how this disruption is registered and negotiated by both non fictional and fictional responses
