Lempire Romain Simon James:

The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Roman Germany Simon James, Stefan Krmnicek, 2020-03-19 Germania was one of the most important and complex zones of cultural interaction and conflict between Rome and neighbouring societies. A vast region it became divided into urbanised provinces with elaborate military frontiers and the northern part of the continental Barbaricum. Recent decades have seen a major effort by German archaeologists, ancient historians, epigraphers, numismatists and other specialists to explore the Roman era in their own territory with rich and often surprising new knowledge. This Handbook aims to make the results of this great effort of modern German and overwhelmingly German language scholarship more widely available to Anglophone scholarship on the empire. Archaeology and ancient history are international enterprises characterised by specific national scholarly traditions; this is notably true of the study of Roman era Germania. This volume comprises a collection of essays in English by leading scholars working in Germany presenting the latest developments in current research as well as situating their work within wider international scholarship through a series of critical responses from other very different national perspectives. In doing so, this book aims to reveal the riches of the archaeology of Roman Germany, promote the achievements of German scholars in the area and help facilitate continued English and German language discourses on the Roman era.

A Companion to the Archaeology of the Roman Empire, 2 Volume Set Barbara Burrell, 2024-03-13. A one-of-a-kind exploration of archaeological evidence from the Roman Empire between 44 BCE and 337 CE. In A Companion to the Archaeology of the Roman Empire, distinguished scholar and archaeologist Professor Barbara Burrell delivers an illuminating and wide-ranging discussion of peoples, institutions and their material remains across the Roman Empire. Divided into two parts, the book begins by focusing on the unifying factors, institutions and processes that affected the entire empire. This ends with a chapter by Professor Greg Woolf, Ronald J. Mellor, Professor of Ancient History at UCLA, which summarizes and enlarges upon the themes and contributions of the volume. Meanwhile, the second part brings out local patterns and peculiarities within the archaeological remains of the City of Rome as well as almost every province of its empire. Each chapter is written by a noted scholar whose career has focused on the subject. Chronological coverage for each chapter is formally 44 BCE to 337 CE, but since material remains are not always so closely datable, most chapters center on the first three centuries of the Common Era, plus or minus 50 years. In addition, the book is amply illustrated and includes new and little-known finds from oft-ignored provinces. Readers will also find a thorough introduction to the peoples and operations of the Roman Empire, including not just how the center affected the periphery (Romanization) but how peripheral provinces operated on their own and among their neighbors. Comprehensive explorations of local patterns within individual provinces. Contributions from a diverse panel of leading scholars in the field. A unique form of organization that brings out systems across the empire, such as transport across sea, rivers and roads; monetary systems; pottery and foodways; the military; construction and technology. Perfect for graduate and advanced undergraduate students of archaeology and the history of the Roman Empire A Companion to the Archaeology of the Roman Empire will also earn a place in the libraries of professional archaeologists in other fields including Mayanists medievalists and Far Eastern scholars seeking comparanda and bibliography on other imperial structures A Cultural History of Work in Antiquity Ephraim Lytle, 2020-09-17 Winner of the 2020 PROSE Award for Multivolume Reference Humanities The world of work saw marked developments over the course of antiquity These were driven by social and economic changes especially growth in market trade and related phenomena like urbanization and specialization Although the self sufficient agrarian household continued to prevail economic realities everywhere intervened Corresponding changes include the emergence of archaeologically distinct workplaces and even in certain times and places preindustrial factories A diversity of workplace cultures often defied dominant gender and other social norms Across an increasingly connected Mediterranean world work contributed to and was in turn structured by mobility Other striking developments included the emergence of state sponsored leisure activities that offered respite from toil for all social classes Through an exploration of these and other themes this volume offers a reappraisal of ancient work and its relationship to Greek and Roman culture A Cultural History of Work in Antiquity presents an overview of the period with essays on economies representations of work workplaces work cultures technology mobility society politics and leisure Military Service and the Integration of Jews into the

Myth and Identity in the Epic of Imperial Spain Elizabeth B. Davis, 2000 The first in depth analysis of some of the most important epic poems of the Spanish Golden Age Myth and Identity in the Epic of Imperial Spain breathes new life into five of these long neglected texts Elizabeth Davis demonstrates that the epic must not be overlooked for doing so creates a significant gap in one's ability to appraise not only the cultural practice of the imperial age but also the purest expression of its ideology Davis's study focuses on heroic poetry written from 1569 to 1611 including Alonso de Ercilla's La Araucana undeniably the most significant epic poem of its time Also included are Diego de Hojeda's La Christiada Juan Rufo's La

Austriada Lope de Vega's Jerusalén Conquistada and Cristóbal de Virués's Historia del Monserrate Examining these epics as the major site for the construction of cultural identities and Renaissance nationalist myths Davis analyzes the means by which the epic constructs a Spanish sense of self Because this sense of identity is not easily susceptible to direct representation it is often derived in opposition to an other which serves to reaffirm Spanish cultural superiority The Spanish Christian caballeros are almost always pitted against Amerindians Muslims Jews or other adversaries portrayed as backward or heathen for their cultural and ethnic differences The pro Castilian elite of sixteenth century Spain faced the daunting task of constructing unity at home in the process of expansion and conquest abroad yet ethnic and regional differences in the Iberian Peninsula made the creation of an imperial identity particularly difficult The epic as Davis shows strains to convey the overriding image of a Spain that appears more unified than the Spanish empire ever truly was An important reexamination of the Golden Age canon Myth and Identity in the Epic of Imperial Spain brings a new twist to the study of canon formation While Davis does not ignore more traditional approaches to the literary text she does apply recent theories such as deconstruction and feminist criticism to these poems resulting in an innovative examination of the material Confronting such issues as canonicity gender the relationship between literature and Golden Age culture and that between art and power this publication offers scholars a new perspective for assessing Golden Age and Transatlantic studies Matthew, James, and Didache Hubertus Waltherus Maria van de Sandt, Jürgen Zangenberg, 2008 Sharing many traditions and characteristics the Gospel of Matthew the letter of James and the Didache invite comparative study In this volume internationally renowned scholars consider the three writings and the complex interrelationship between first century Judaism and nascent Christianity These texts likely reflect different aspects and emphases of a network of connected communities sharing basic theological assumptions and expressions Of particular importance for the reconstruction of the religious and social milieu of these communities are issues such as the role of Jewish law the development of community structures the reception of the Jesus tradition and conflict management In addition to the Pauline and Johannine schools Matthew James and the Didache may represent a third religious milieu within earliest Christianity that is especially characterized through its distinct connections to a particular ethical stream of contemporary Jewish tradition The contributors are Jonathan Draper Patrick J Hartin John S Kloppenborg Matthias Konradt J Andrew Overman Boris Repschinski Huub van de Sandt Jens Schroter David C Sim Alistair Stewart Sykes Peter Tomson Martin Vahrenhorst Joseph Verheyden Wim J C Weren Oda Wischmeyer Jürgen K Zangenberg and Magnus Zetterholm BOOK JACKET Spink & Son's Monthly Numismatic Circular, 1902 Jews and Christians William Horbury, 2006-07-15 Jewish Christian contact and controversy were central to early Christian experience An understanding of this interaction and its continuation over the centuries is also central to any true understanding of the history of Christianity and of the history of Judaism The twelve chapters of this book deal especially with the interconnected subjects of polemic and biblical interpretation Nine are concerned with the ancient world beginning with post exilic Jewish writing and the New Testament and going on to later pagan Jewish and Christian controversies Three concentrate on medieval and early modern Jewish controversies William Horbury makes an important contribution to the understanding of abundant primary sources both Jewish and Christian which remain in large part under explored

Britons and Romans Simon James, Martin Millett, 2001 This challenging book encourages those with an interest in Roman Britain to think broadly and to engage actively in shaping the future priorities of research into the subject The volume reconsiders many assumptions about relations between Romans and the indigenous population and the authors explore themes as diverse as the Iron Age Roman and Roman Medieval transitions Romanisation material culture and identity rural society urbanism zooarchaeology and soldiers and civilians Within these themes the contributors seek to break down the relative insularity of Romano British studies and to open it up to new external perspectives and interdisciplinary approaches

Wistrich, 2013-03-07 At the close of the twentieth century the stereotyping and demonization of others whether on religious nationalist racist or political grounds has become a burning issue Yet comparatively little attention has been paid to how and why we fabricate images of the other as an enemy or demon to be destroyed This innovative book fills that gap through an interdisciplinary cross cultural approach that brings together a distinguished array of historians anthropologists psychologists literary critics and feminists The historical sweep covers Greco Roman Antiquity the Middle Ages and the Modern Era Antisemitism receives special attention because of its longevity and centrality to the Holocaust but it is analyzed here within the much broader framework of racism and xenophobia The plurality of viewpoints expressed in this volume provide fascinating insights into what is common and what is unique to the many varieties of prejudice stereotyping demonization and hatred second supplement to the catalogue of the library, 1859 Catalogue of the Library of the Athenaeum, 1859 Barbarian or Greek?

Stamenka Antonova, 2018-11-01 In her book Barbarian or Greek The Charge of Barbarism and Early Christian Apologetics Stamenka Antonova examines different aspects of the charge of barbarism in the Greek and Latin Christian apologetic texts 2 4th centuries and the various responses to it by the early Christians The author demonstrates that the charge of barbarism encompasses a broad range of meanings such as low social class inadequate education immorality criminal activity political treason as well as foreign ethnicity and language In addition to contextualizing the charge of barbarism in ancient rhetorical practices the author also applies literary criticism and post colonial theory to shed light on the concept of the barbarian as an ideological rhetorical tool for othering marginalization and persecution in the Roman Empire Jesus Caesar Laura J. Hunt, 2019-11-20 Back cover In this work Laura J Hunt notes the evidence of local interactions with Rome in important first century CE cities The resulting reading of the Johannine trial narrative depicts Jesus in the words and images of a Caesar and Pilate negotiating his power over the Jews and his vulnerability before Caesar Receptions of Paul in Early Christianity Jens Schröter, Simon Buttica, Andreas

Dettwiler,2018-10-22 The volume deals with interpretations of Paul his person and his letters in various early Christian writings Some of those written in the name of Paul became part of the New Testament others are included among Ancient Christian Apocrypha still others belong to the collection called The Apostolic Fathers Impacts of Paul are also discernible in early collections of his letters which became an important part of the New Testament canon This process resulting in the canonical Paul is also considered in this collection     Eurabia-paperback Bat Ye'or,2005 This book is about the transformation of Europe into Eurabia a cultural and political appendage of the Arab Muslim world Eurabia is fundamentally anti Christian anti Western anti American and antisemitic The institution responsible for this transformation and that continues to propagate its ideological message is the Euro Arab Dialogue developed by European and Arab politicians and intellectuals over the past thirty years From publisher description
