The movie To Sir with Love, directed by James Clavel in 1967, deals with vital social issues of the time.

Social class, ethnicity, and gender have always been considered as possible barriers to equality of opportunity in education. This issue is always present in the movie. The main character, Mark, encounters numerous difficulties with employment because of his skin color. Although it seems that being a Negro did not prevent him from getting all-round education and an academic degree, he is not accepted to work anywhere besides low-rate school for difficult children.

There is little evidence of educational inequality conditioned by gender. In Mark's class there are both boys and girls, and the latter seem to be treated as equals. The school provides similar educational environment for both sexes. However, low social status and neglectful attitude of the parents diminishes the children's chances to get good education. East End is considered as inferior to other districts, and the children from local schools have less opportunities than those from more prestigious educational institutions.

The relationship between teachers and students has considerable influence on the students' performance. Teacher's expectations have strong impact on the student's performance. The maturity with which Mark begins to treat the students encourages them to make progress and excites their interest. Trust and tolerance displayed by the teacher and his respect of the student's personalities serve as effective stimuli and improve their academic performance. Richard Porton and by covering a broad spectrum of influential publications including Sight Sound The Guardian Cineaste indieWIRE and Variety Forming a major new contribution to an emerging field of study these enquiries survey the impact of larger cultural economic and technological processes facing society media and journalism Historical perspectives on criticism from ancient times and current debates in journalism and digital media are used to unravel questions such as what is the relationship between crisis and criticism In what way does the web change the functions and habits of practitioners What influences do film industries have on the critical act And how engaged are practitioners with converged and creative film criticism such as the video essay In the face of transformative digital idealism empirical findings here redress the balance and argue the case for evolution rather than revolution taking place within film criticism

Across University Disciplines Roger Graves,2017-12-07 Writing Assignments Across the University Curriculum as a whole asks and answers these questions What kinds of documents do students write in a wide range of university degree programs in Canada How do instructors structure those writing assignments That is who is the audience for the assignments Do students get formative feedback as they develop their documents Do the patterns we found in a small liberal arts college Graves Hyland and Samuels 2010 occur in other kinds of universities We took our cue from an article by Anson and Dannels 2009 who pointed us toward the idea that students experience a curriculum through their degree progress in an academic program Consequently we needed to map the writing assignments according to how different departments organized these degree programs Results that were organized by curricular unit departments faculties or colleges or programs units were more significant than general statistics because students would progress through these courses to a degree Several chapters in the book describe how this kind of curricular mapping provided a spark for curricular reform in Engineering Education and an entire small university The last two chapters report on the instructors perspective on their assignments what they were intending to do and why they both resisted and engaged in curricular discussions The Shorthand Review ,1891
