Why Would I Be Married Here? Reena Kukreja, 2022-04-15 Why Would I Be Married Here examines marriage migration undertaken by rural bachelors in North India unable to marry locally who travel across the breadth of India seeking brides who do not share the same caste ethnicity language or customs as themselves Combining rich ethnographic evidence with Dalit feminist and political economy frameworks Reena Kukreja connects the macro political violent process of neoliberalism to the micro personal level of marriage and intimate gender relations to analyze the lived reality of this set of migrant brides in cross region marriages among dominant peasant caste Hindus and Meo Muslims in rural North India Why Would I Be Married Here reveals how predatory capitalism links with patriarchy to dispossess many poor women from India's marginalized Dalit and Muslim communities of marriage choices in their local communities It reveals how within the context of the increasing spread of capitalist relations these women's pragmatic cross region migration for marriage needs to be reframed as an exercise of their agency that simultaneously exposes them to new forms of gender subordination and internal othering of caste discrimination and ethnocentrism in conjugal communities Why Would I Be Married Here offers powerful examples of how contemporary forces of neoliberalism reshape the structural oppressions compelling poor women from marginalized communities worldwide into making compromised choices about their bodies their labor and their lives

Muslim Women and Shari'ah Councils S. Bano, 2012-11-14 Using original empirical data and critiquing existing research Samia Bano explores the experience of British Muslim woman who use Shari'ah councils to resolve marital disputes She challenges the language of community rights and claims for legal autonomy in matters of family law showing how law and community can empower as well as restrict women

It's Not About the Burqa

Mariam Khan, 2019-02-21 It's Not About the Burqa is an anthology of frank and insightful essays by Muslim women about the contemporary Muslim female experience Passionate angry self-effacing nuanced and utterly compelling in every single way Nikesh Shukla editor of The Good Immigrant When was the last time you heard a Muslim woman speak for herself without a filter In 2016 Mariam Khan read that David Cameron had linked the radicalization of Muslim men to the traditional submissiveness of Muslim women Mariam felt pretty sure she didn't know a single Muslim woman who would describe herself that way Why was she hearing about Muslim women from people who were neither Muslim nor female Years later the state of the national discourse has deteriorated even further and Muslim women's voices are still pushed to the fringes the figures leading the discussion are white and male Taking one of the most politicized and misused words associated with Muslim women and Islamophobia It's Not About the Burqa is poised to change all that Here are voices you won't see represented in the national news headlines seventeen

Muslim women speaking frankly about the hijab and wavering faith about love and divorce about feminism queer identity sex and the twin threats of a disapproving community and a racist country With a mix of British and international women writers from activist Mona Eltahawy's definition of a revolution to journalist and broadcaster Saima Mir telling the story of her experience of arranged marriage from author Sufiya Ahmed on her Islamic feminist icon to playwright Afshan Dsouza Lodhi's moving piece about her relationship with her hijab these essays are funny warm sometimes sad and often angry and each of them is a passionate declaration calling time on the oppression the lazy stereotyping the misogyny and the Islamophobia What does it mean exactly to be a Muslim woman in the West today According to the media it's all about the burqa Here's what it's really about Shortlisted for Foyles Non Fiction Book of the Year Engrossing fascinating courageous Observer

Marriage, Money and Divorce in Medieval Islamic Society Yossef Rapoport, 2005-04-21 High rates of divorce often taken to be a modern and western phenomenon were also typical of medieval Islamic societies By pitting these high rates of divorce against the Islamic ideal of marriage Yossef Rapoport radically challenges usual assumptions about the legal inferiority of Muslim women and their economic dependence on men He argues that marriages in late medieval Cairo Damascus and Jerusalem had little in common with the patriarchal models advocated by jurists and moralists The transmission of dowries women's access to waged labour and the strict separation of property between spouses made divorce easy and normative initiated by wives as often as by their husbands This carefully researched work of social history is interwoven with intimate accounts of individual medieval lives making for a truly compelling read It will be of interest to scholars of all disciplines concerned with the history of women and gender in Islam

Academic and Practical Analyses of the Law Regulating Islamic Marriages in Ghana Rabiatu Ammah, Salman M. Alhassan, 2013 Islamic Law, Gender and Social Change in Post-Abolition Zanzibar Elke Stockreiter, 2015-03-02 Examining Islamic court records this book sheds new light on Zanzibar's history of gender social and racial identity

The Diversity of Muslim Women's Lives in India Zoya Hasan, Ritu Menon, 2005 In order to broaden the lens through which Muslim women are typically seen a group of researchers in India carried out a large and unprecedented study of one of the most disadvantaged sections of Indian society The editors of The Diversity of Muslim Women's Lives in India bring together this research in a comprehensive collection of informative and revealing case studies Anthropology & Archeology of Eurasia, 2008 Islamic Marriage Certificate Bookextra, Limited, 2001-01-01

Global Empowerment of Women Carolyn M. Elliott, 2007-12-12 The empowerment of women is a broadly endorsed strategy for solving a host of difficult problems from child poverty to gender violence to international development The seventeen international scholars in this multi disciplinary volume offer thoughtful critiques of the notion of empowerment based on their studies in twenty countries in all regions of the world The comparative introduction places concepts of empowerment in the context of models of the market and of community showing how contradictions in these models as they are enacted on the ground provide both spaces and constraints for women The chapters consider opportunities for women in the context of globalization resurgent nationalism and politicized religion cultures of masculinity and the HIV AIDS epidemic in Africa They show how initiatives at national or global levels are transformed by local cultures and power structures and demonstrate the fruitfulness of tensions between universal values of human rights and contextualized understandings This landmark multi disciplinary collection of original studies by distinguished international feminist scholars will be an essential addition to the fields of Political Science Women s Studies Economics Sociology International Development and Environmental Studies

Shari'a Councils and Muslim Women in Britain Tanya Walker,2016-10-11 The public debate on Shari a councils in Britain has been heavily influenced by the assumption that the councils exist as religious authorities and that those who use them exercise their right to religious freedom In Shari a Councils and Muslim Women in Britain Tanya Walker draws on extensive fieldwork from over 100 cases to argue for a radically different understanding of the setting and dynamics of the Shari a councils The analysis highlights the pragmatic manoeuvrings of Muslim women in pursuit of defined objectives within limited space holding in tension both the constraints of particular frameworks of power and the realities of women s agency Despite this needed nuance in a polarised debate however important questions about the rights of Muslim women remain

Muhammad Jibālī,2005

Marriage holds a position of perpetual significance because of the central role it plays in human life It is not surprising therefore that the scholars of Islam have discussed it extensively through the ages Under the contemporary influence of non Islamic cultures however misconceptions have crept into various areas of Islam spilling into marriage divorce and other family related matters Viewing the needs of the Muslims who live in non Islamic environments and realizing that most Islamic writings on marriage are restricted in scope we find quite a large gap that needs to be filled for the benefit of the English speaking Muslims which is what we attempt to accomplish over the span of this 4 book set that covers various aspects of marriage according to the authentic Sunnah This book covers the obligations of the two spouses the wife s rights and the husband s rights It contains biographies of the Mothers of the Believers paints very realistic pictures from the life of the Prophet Mohammed with his wives and the interpretation of the hadith of Umm Zar

Sudanese Women Refugees J. Edward,2007-10-29 This book examines the social cultural economic and political transformations that have occurred among southern Sudanese women refugees as they experience life in Cairo Egypt It intends to show how these women use their newly acquired skills and knowledge to challenge their past and to challenge the image of women refugees as victims and dependents The author counters previous literature s tendency to categorize these women as victimized dependent and backwards rather than recognizing their strength and contributions to their new societies
