CHEMICAL FOUNDATIONS

REVIEW THE CONCEPTS

1. Less energy is required to form noncovalent bonds than covalent bonds, and the bonds that stick the gecko's feet to the smooth surface need to be formed and broken many times as the animal moves. Since van der Waals interactions are so weak, there must be many points of contact (a large surface area) yielding multiple van der Waals interactions between the septae and the smooth surface.
  - a. These are likely to be hydrophilic amino acids, and in particular, negatively charged amino acids (aspartate and glutamate), which would have an affinity for  $K^+$  via ionic bonds.
  - b. Like the phospholipid bilayer itself, this portion of the protein is likely to be amphipathic, with hydrophobic amino acids in contact with the fatty acyl chains and hydrophilic amino acids in contact with the hydrophilic heads.
  - c, d. Since both the cytosol and extracellular space are aqueous environments, hydrophilic amino acids would contact these fluids.
3. At  $pH = 7.0$ , the net charge is  $-1$  because of the negative charge on the carboxyl residue of glutamate (E). After phosphorylation by a tyrosine kinase, two additional negative charges (because of attachment of phosphate residues to tyrosines (Y)) would be added. Thus, the net charge would be  $-3$ . The most likely source of phosphate is ATP since the attachment of inorganic phosphate ( $P_i$ ) to tyrosine is energetically highly unfavorable, but when coupled to the hydrolysis of the high-energy phosphoanhydride bond of ATP, the overall reaction is energetically favorable.

New Co Author Angelika Amon The new edition of Molecular Cell Biology introduces a new member to our author team respected researcher and teacher Angelika Amon of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Dr Amon is an Investigator at the Howard Hughes Medical Institute as well as a member of the Koch Institute for Integrative Cancer Research and the National Academy of Sciences Her laboratory studies the molecular mechanisms that govern chromosome segregation during mitosis and meiosis and the consequences when these mechanisms fail during normal cell proliferation and cancer development

Increased Clarity Improved Pedagogy In the new edition the authors have scrutinized every chapter with an eye toward bringing out key concepts and making connections easier to follow Perennially challenging topics such as cellular energetics cell signaling and immunology have been revised to improve student understanding Coverage of developmental biology has been streamlined to focus on just those key areas central to cell biology courses Every figure in the book was reconsidered and if possible simplified to highlight key lessons Revised end of chapter materials include new questions including additional Analyze the Data problems to give students added practice at interpreting experimental evidence The result is a book that balances currency and experimental focus with attention to clarity organization and pedagogy

Highlights of the New Edition Chapter 1 Molecules Cells and Evolution now frames cell biology in the light of evolution because we all come from the same ancestor cell the molecules and processes of cell biology are similar in all forms of life We can use model organisms to study aspects of cell structure and function that have been conserved across millions of years of evolution Chapter 9 Culturing Visualizing and Perturbing Cells has been rewritten to include cutting edge methods including FRAP FRET siRNA and chemical biology making it a state of the art methods chapter Cell signaling chapters Chapters 15 16 have been reorganized and illustrated with simplified overview figures to help students navigate the complexity of signaling pathways Fully Reconceived Thoroughly Updated Chapter 19 The Eukaryotic Cell Cycle now begins with the concept of START a cell's commitment to entering the cell cycle starting with DNA synthesis and then progresses through the cycle stages The chapter focuses on yeast and mammals and uses general names for cell cycle components as much as possible New Discoveries Methodologies and Medical Examples New discoveries new methodologies and new medical examples are included throughout

Online Information Services for Secondary School Students Elizabeth Smith Aversa, Jacqueline C. Mancall, Diane Oesau, 1987 This study assesses the role of online searching in school library media centers as it has been reported in the literature and also as seen in the results of a 1986 survey of school based online providers and vendors Although online searching in the school environment was not found to be broadly reported in the literature the survey showed the topic was one of growing interest in schools across the country Literature and survey findings are reported and compared in three major areas 1 people both students and library media specialists are doing online searching media specialists receive their training in a variety of ways and students are using online searching for class related topics and papers 2 policies there is little evidence in the literature on the establishment of policies for online access while the survey showed current school policies to vary widely and 3 practice the results of the survey confirm the findings of the literature regarding widespread use of microcomputers especially Apple and use of specific networks and databases An annotated 21 item bibliography of recently published materials which describe programs and provide guidelines for implementing online searching in the schools is provided as a locator for educators administrators and school library media specialists Copies of the survey instruments for media specialists and for vendors are appended as well as a list of the names addresses and
