Swapping Stories Carl Lindahl, Maida Owens, C. Renée Harvison, 2009-10-20 Here are more than two hundred oral tales from some of Louisiana's finest storytellers. In this comprehensive volume of great range are transcriptions of narratives in many genres from diverse voices and from all regions of the state. Told in settings ranging from the front porch to the festival stage, these tales proclaim the great vitality and variety of Louisiana's oral narrative traditions. Given special focus are Harold Talbert, Lonnie Gray, Bel Abbey, Ben Guin, and Enola Matthews, whose wealth of imagination, memory, and artistry demonstrates the depth as well as the breadth of the storyteller's craft. For tales told in Cajun and Creole, French, Koasati, and Spanish, the editors have supplied both the original language and English translation. To the volume, Maida Owens has contributed an overview of Louisiana's folk culture and a survey of folklife studies of various regions of the state. Carl Lindahl's introduction and notes discuss the various genres and styles of storytelling common in Louisiana and link them with the worldwide world of the folktale.

insomniac ponders the meagreness of his life A man loses the respect of his family because of a counterfeit coin A duel of wits escalates into a clash of cultures and more The Duel and Other Stories is the second in an exclusive three volume edition of Chekhov's stories Encompassing the intricacy and range of social connection these exquisitely crafted stories trace the mutability of our everyday relationships as they stall separate or entwine In the strangely lyrical deadpan prose so characteristic of Chekhov's drama they expose the misplaced affections broken vows and brilliant dreams of what it is to be human This unique collection offers a perfect introduction to one of Russia's and the world's greatest writers Short Stories Are Not Real Life David R. Slavitt, 1999-03-01 In these fourteen beautifully crafted stories David R Slavitt shows his mastery of the form Elegant spare sometimes funny sometimes elegiac this collection reflects a writer in admirable control of his craft The title story complete with footnotes in The Norton Anthology of Short Fiction braids together the tidy conventions of fiction and the brutal reality of New York as a writing teacher ponders his student's sexually explicit story that may or may not be autobiographical In The Impostor a writer's brother exploits the legerdemain of fiction in a series of ever bolder impersonations Several of the stories are presented by emotionally wounded narrators disillusioned men looking for a hint of grace in a world where expectations are frequently doomed to disappointment In such a world only one thing is certain we will hurt and be hurt by the ones we love And in the vacuum left when traditions that might have been redemptive have lost their meaning punishment gets to be a habit a way of life or at least something to hold onto The stories pivot on nuance on the half realized insight on some perfectly innocent and insignificant insight on some perfectly innocent and insignificant gesture that turns round and grows into a medium to large awkwardness We find what the divorced father futilely awaiting his daughter's visit in Hurricane Charlie calls dabblers in distress lonely decent people trying to discover where love and life went In Simple Justice a man striving for some definitive family memory compares the process to archaeology The shards that remain are pathetically small and almost grudging Thus through the faltering memory of an elderly cousin in confluences a man becomes a kind of incarnation of his own father and for a moment finds himself at the vanishing point where a lost past meets an unknowable future in The Long Island Train a simple anecdote becomes a metaphor for the opacity of the most apparently transparent human intentions Yet it is often these shards of tradition and memory that seem to hold our only promise of transcendence The protagonist of Grandfather for example through his reluctant participation in his grandson's pranks finds a moment of reconciliation with a past that has broken loose of its moorings Even the most experimental of these pieces Instructions a list of admonitions ranging from the quotidian to the cosmic shows a deep humanity and a maturity of vision that steers adeptly between humor and despair These stories will linger in the reader's memory long after the book is closed
