The Report: Mongolia 2014 Oxford Business Group, 2014-05-23 Since the country's transition from communism two decades ago the Mongolian economy has experienced rapid liberalisation Sectors including ICT and insurance are expanding quickly and while the mining sector has been responsible for making Mongolia a rising star in the global economy there is great potential for further growth in all economic sectors Politically stable and rich with natural resources Mongolia has emerged as a bellwether for investor confidence in recent years The 2013 commercialisation of the Oyu Tolgoi gold and copper mine is helping to diversify Mongolia's mineral exports away from coal while the government is working to improve the investment environment by adopting the new Investment Law among other measures Challenges do exist however from the long harsh winters that slow construction to the difficulty of connecting the sparsely populated nation through ICT and transport systems In response the government has partnered with the private sector on a number of fronts in order to promote economic diversification and competitiveness

Assessment in Geographical Education: An International Perspective Theresa Bourke, Reece Mills, Rod Lane, 2022-02-27 In recent years there has been increased attention paid to the importance of assessment in Geographical Education the chosen subject for this book Assessment is an important tool for collecting information about student learning and for providing timely data to inform key stakeholders including students teachers parents and policymakers To be effective assessment needs to be valid reliable and fair Validity is about ensuring that we assess what we claim we are assessing Reliability is about measuring performance and understanding in a consistent way Without validity and reliability assessment is unlikely to provide equitable opportunities for students to demonstrate what they know and can do As geography educators it is therefore important that we identify the core concepts and skills in geography that we want students to master We need a clear understanding of what the progression of learning looks like for each concept and skill so we can develop fit for purpose assessments that track and improve student learning While there is a substantial literature on evidence based assessment in secondary school contexts research exploring best practice assessment in geography is rare This is a concern given the distinctive nature of geography and the important role of assessment in the learning process This scholarly collection seeks to address this issue by connecting research in educational assessment with the domain of geography The chapters are written by leading researchers in Geographical Education from across the globe These chapters provide examples of innovation through the collective voices of geography teacher educator scholars from across Australia USA South Korea Germany Switzerland and Singapore What unifies the work in this book is that each chapter focuses on a key feature of the discipline of geography providing scholarly examples of evidence based practices for assessing student s knowledge and skills

Schooling for Sustainable Development in Africa Heila Lotz-Sisitka, Overson Shumba, Justin Lupele, Di Wilmot, 2016-11-11 This book considers the scope and dynamics of Education for Sustainable Development ESD and learning in schools in Africa It explores the conditions and processes that support such learning and examines how ESD in schooling can improve the quality and relevance of education The quality of education has been defined internationally as a key concern for educational institutions around the world including schools in Africa The models of quality are often limited to performance based approaches and or inclusive approaches The contributions in this book show that there is more to a discussion on educational quality in Africa than performance success and or inclusion The chapters explain how ESD brings a new relevance to education in Africa and at the same time sounds the beginning of a new concept of quality education The volume presents a collection of experiences in creating and supporting quality learning processes through a variety of ESD practices
