Aircraft Noise Jon M. Woodward, Lisa Lassman, Briscoe, Paul H. Dunholter, 2009. This guidebook should be of interest to airport managers and other staff from airports of all sizes who are responsible for responding to neighboring communities regarding aircraft noise issues. It provides guidance on how best to improve communications with the public about issues related to aircraft noise exposure. Specifically, the guidebook presents best practices that characterize an effective communications program and provides basic information about noise and its abatement to assist in responding to public inquiries. It also suggests tools useful to initiate a new or upgrade an existing program of communication with public and private stakeholders about noise issues. An accompanying CD ROM contains a toolkit with examples of material that has been successfully used to communicate information about noise as well as numerous guidance documents about noise and communications that have seldom been brought together in the same resource.

Handbook of Research on Wireless Sensor Network Trends, Technologies, and Applications Kamila, Narendra Kumar, 2016-08-04. Wireless sensor networks have become an intricate and necessary addition to daily life by providing an energy efficient way to collect and monitor data while rerouting the information to a centralized location. As the application of these networks becomes more common, it becomes imperative to evaluate their effectiveness as well as other opportunities for possible implementation in the future. The Handbook of Research on Wireless Sensor Network Trends, Technologies and Applications provides inclusive coverage on the processing and applications of wireless communication sensor networks and mobile computing. Investigating emergent research and theoretical concepts in the area of wireless sensors and their applications to daily life, this handbook of research is a critical reference source for students, researchers, engineers, scientists, and working professionals.

Roadside Revegetation David E. Steinfeld, 2007. Native plants are a foundation of ecological function affecting soil conservation, wildlife habitat, plant communities, invasive species, and water quality. Establishing locally adapted self-sustaining plant communities can also support transportation goals for safety and efficiency. Past obstacles to establishing native plant communities on roadsides have been technical, informational, and organizational. Effective strategies and practical techniques for revegetating the disturbed conditions with limited resources must be made available to practitioners. Multiple disciplines ranging from engineering to soil science, ecology, botany, and wildlife science must be able to work cooperatively, not in isolation. This report offers an integrated approach to facilitate the successful establishment of native plants along roadsides and other areas of disturbance associated with road modifications. It guides readers through a comprehensive process of 1 initiating, 2 planning, 3 implementing, and 4 monitoring a roadside revegetating project with native plants
