The Islamic Finance Industry Burak Çıkıryel, Tawfik Azrak, 2023-05-26 Islamic finance has emerged to meet the financial needs of people who seek a different approach to conventional banking and finance. Due to its late inception, Islamic finance has often been regarded as an infant industry compared to its traditional counterparts. Even though the Islamic finance industry is still classified as nascent, it has shown rapid growth in the last decade or so. The primary objective of this book is to highlight the main issues and challenges the Islamic finance industry faces and to offer practical solutions. Firstly, the book classifies the main components of Islamic finance such as money and banking, capital markets, fintech, microfinance, insurance, as well as morality and governance. Secondly, all of the chapters are combined according to their relationship and link with each other so as to provide readers with a unique and holistic overview of the subject. The chapters are written by well-renowned experts in the field. As well as offering readers theoretical information about each subject under discussion, it also advances practical solutions that can contribute to the development of each field. The book answers questions such as how money is created by banks, what the business model of Islamic banking should look like, whether Islamic microfinance institutions are sustainable, what the likely framework of takaful should be, what the potential role of fintech could be in reshaping the Islamic financial system, and where and whether morality fits in the financial system. The book will attract the attention of students, researchers, practitioners, regulators, and policymakers.

Banking Law and Financial Regulations John Abolarin, 2025-01-03 Evaluating the financial accounts of the Royal Bank of Scotland Group, Barclays, HSBC, and Standard Chartered Bank from 2004-2018 reveals a taste of the sweetness of success. It also demonstrates what could go wrong in a mega bank, the crippling price of failure, and the long hard road to recovery. This book is a historical account of the causes of instability in the banking sector in the past 40 years and an evaluation of the effectiveness or otherwise of a range of laws and regulatory measures adopted to remedy financial crises in the UK over the years. In addition, the book provides a broad review of the evolutionary development of banking and financial laws, starting with seminal case laws on the subject: the Banking Act 1979, the repealed Banking Act 1987, FSMA 2000, the Company Act 2006, the Banking Reform Act 2013, Basel Accords, and sundry EU Directives. John, a Barrister at Law, offered a robust blend of theoretical knowledge and twenty years of practical industry experience in a commercial bank to provide legal perspectives on supervisory models necessary for stability in the banking sector while promoting justification for creating an enabling environment for wealth creation and economic growth. The Methods and Methodology chapter would be an invaluable companion for postgraduate students and researchers.

Artificial Intelligence in Economics and Management Phillip Ein-Dor, 2012-12-06 In the past decades, several researchers have developed statistical models for the prediction of corporate bankruptcy, e.g. Altman 1968 and Bilderbeek 1983. A model for predicting corporate bankruptcy aims to describe the relation between bankruptcy and a number of explanatory financial ratios. These ratios can be calculated from the information contained in a company's annual report The is to obtain a method for timely prediction of bankruptcy a so ultimate purpose called early warning system More recently this subject has attracted the attention of researchers in the area of machine learning e g Shaw and Gentry 1990 Fletcher and Goss 1993 and Tam and Kiang 1992 This research is usually directed at the comparison of machine learning methods such as induction of classification trees and neural networks with the standard statistical methods of linear discriminant analysis and logistic regression In earlier research Feelders et al 1994 performed a similar comparative analysis The methods used were linear discriminant analysis decision trees and neural networks We used a data set which contained 139 annual reports of Dutch industrial and trading companies The experiments showed that the estimated prediction error of both the decision tree and neural network were below the estimated error of the linear discriminant Thus it seems that we can gain by replacing the traditionally used linear discriminant by a more flexible classification method to predict corporate bankruptcy The data set used in these experiments was very small however

Global Finance in the 21st Century Steve Kourabas,2021-09-28 Global Finance in the 21st Century Stability and Sustainability in a Fragmenting World explains finance and its regulation after the global financial crisis The book introduces non finance scholars into the wider debate regarding the conduct and regulation of finance to encourage broader discussion on important societal issues that relate to finance The book also explores the ineffectiveness of the current approach to global prudential governance and places this discussion within the more expansive context of global governance and nationalism in the twenty first century The book argues that fragmentation and the growing trend of promoting informality and voluntarism has facilitated a return to nationalism as a primary form of global governance that acts contrary to post crisis reforms that seek to promote stability and sustainability in the conduct of finance As a remedy Kourabas suggests that we need more not less of what we have traditionally conceived as international law treaties and treaty based international organisations In the field of finance this means not only pursuing financial liberalisation through free trade and investment treaties but also the inclusion of provisions in these treaties that promotes systemic financial stability and sustainable development objectives Of interest to legal and non legal academics and students legal professionals and policy makers this book offers a nuanced defence of international law as an approach to global governance in finance and beyond as well as reform of international law to meet the needs of twenty first century society
