Muses, Mistresses and Mates Anna Suwalska Kolečka, Izabella Penier, 2015-06-18 The Muse is one of the oldest archetypes in human civilization and in the past was a representation of an idealized woman blessed with beauty and creativity and exerting irresistible attraction for many a man Nowadays in the wake of feminism the idea of the Muse seems a bit obsolete quaint or downright sexist and is said to enhance a vicious stereotype of the creative productive and active man and the passive submissive and docile woman However this book shows that this in fact Maids and Mistresses, Cousins and Queens Susan Frye, Karen Robertson, 1999-01-28 This new collection of sixteen essays considers evidence for the varied forms of women's alliances in early modern England It shows how women prohibited from direct participation in the institutional structures that shaped the lives of men constructed informal connections with other females for purposes of survival advancement and creativity The essays presented here consider a variety of communities formed among groups as diverse as serving women vagrants aristocrats and authors in order to study the historical traces of women's connections Alliance as understood by the essayists in this volume does not preclude competition or antagonism since the bonds among women were frequently determined by an opposition to other women As shown here the theorizing of women's connections and the recovery of the historical evidence for these connections can only add to our understanding of women's activities in early modern English society Maids and Mistresses Cousins and Queens is divided into four sections The first two Alliances in the City and Alliances in the Household examine the circumstances of women's communities in two primary sites for women of this place and time The second two Materializing Communities and Emerging Alliances fully study the aspirations that guided and transformed the courses of women's lives All of these interdisciplinary essays deftly combining literary and historical methods and materials are informed by feminism queer theory and studies of class and race in the early modern period MLN., 1909 The Athenaeum James Silk Buckingham, John Sterling, Frederick Denison Maurice, Henry Stebbing, Charles Wentworth Dilke, Thomas Kibble Hervey, William Hepworth Dixon, Norman Maccoll, Vernon Horace Rendall, John Middleton Murry, 1877 *Kisses, being an English translation in verse of the Basia of J. Fate and Fortune in European Thought, ca. 1400-1650 Ovanes Akopyan,2021-04-26 If the universe were conceived to fulfill a certain divine plan or to manifest God's will and glory what would the place of an individual be within this plan What is more if from the very beginning of its existence and through divine providence it were predestined to be driven toward a certain end how could people adjust their individual lives to the incognizable universal design and react to the obscure future fraught with both luck and failure These questions which have occupied humanity for centuries formed a remarkable element of early modern European thought This collection of essays presents new insights into what shaped and constituted reflections on fate and fortune between roughly 1400 and 1650 both in word and image This volume argues that these ideas were emblematic of a more fundamental argument about the self society and the universe and shows that their influence was more widespread geographically and thematically than hitherto assumed Contributors Damiano Acciarino Ovanes Akopyan Elisabeth Blum Paul Richard Blum Jo Coture Guido Giglioni Dalia Judovitz Sophie Raux Orlando Reade and John Sellars
