Mad Science Joseph Mangano, 2012-10-01 Will Americans once again play nuclear roulette Just one year after the Fukushima meltdown all 54 reactors in Japan have been closed and may never be restarted Germany recently closed several reactors and will shutter them all within a decade Italy revoked its pledge to build new reactors keeping that nation nuclear free All these decisions are based on the understanding that reactors are extremely dangerous and expensive In the U S the remnants of the once overwhelmingly powerful nuclear lobby are making their last stand for clean nuclear energy The sixty year old vision of power too cheap to meter words originally uttered by a banker promoting the industry is back While other countries end their reliance on nuclear energy Americans contemplate its revival even as existing reactors which produce a fifth of U S electricity pass retirement age and are corroding In Mad Science Joseph Mangano strips away the near smothering layers of distortions and outright lies that permeate the massive propaganda campaigns on behalf of nuclear energy He explores the history of the industry with its origins in the Manhattan Project through its heightening promotion during the Cold War and its entwinement with nuclear weapons Mad Science includes an account of nuclear accidents and meltdowns and their consequences from Chernobyl to Santa Susana and beyond as well as a point by point refutation of pro nuke arguments Atomic energy is unsafe it deals with staggeringly poisonous substances at every stage of its creation un economical in the extreme and impractical The New Book of Popular Science: Earth sciences, energy, environmental sciences , 2004 Geothermal Energy United States. Dept. of Energy. Division of Geothermal Energy, 1978 Radicalism, Revolution, and Reform in Modern China Catherine Lynch, Robert B. Marks, Paul G. Pickowicz, 2011-03-31 This volume illuminates the relationship of China s radical past to its reformist present as China makes a way forward through very differently conceived and contested visions of the future In the context of early twenty first century problems and the failures of global capitalism is China s history of revolutionary socialism an aberration that is soon to be forgotten or can it serve as a resource for creating a more fully human and radically democratic China with implications for all of us Ranging from the early years of China s revolutionary twentieth century to the present the essays collected here look at the past and present of China with a view toward better understanding the ideas ideals and people who have dared to imagine radical transformation of their worlds and to assess the conceptual political and social limitations of these visions and their implementations The volume s chapters focus on these issues from a range of vantage points representing a spectrum of current scholarship The first half of the book brings new insights to understanding how early twentieth century intellectuals interpreted ideas that allowed them to break with China s past and to envision new paths to a modern future It treats of Chen Duxiu a founder of the Communist party Mao Zedong and Mao in relation to the non Communist Liang Shuming and with the Dalai Lama With continuing threads of nation and nationalities of peasants utopias and dystopias linking the chapters the book s second half looks broadly at the consequences of the implementations of radical ideas at the same time critiquing our accepted frameworks of analysis Moving up to the present the book investigates the effects of the reforms since the 1980s on long term environmental degradation and on the emergence of a capitalist rural economy It gives an unsparing view into contemporary rural China through independent films The book concludes with an analysis of the unshakable persistence of the shibboleth the rise of China in popul Energy and the New Reality 2 L. D. Danny

Harvey,2010-08-12 Transforming our energy supplies to be more sustainable is seen by many to be the biggest challenge of our times In this comprehensive textbook L D Danny Harvey sets out in unprecedented detail the path we must take to minimize the effects that the way we harness energy will have on future climate change The book opens by highlighting the importance of moving to low carbon technologies for generation then moves on to explain the functioning potential and social environmental issues around solar energy wind energy biomass energy geothermal energy hydroelectric power ocean energy nuclear energy It also covers the options for carbon capture and storage and the contexts in which low carbon energy can best be utilized potential for community integrated systems and the hydrogen economy The book closes with scenarios that combine the findings from its companion volume concerning the potential for limiting future energy demand with the findings from this volume concerning the cost and potential of C free energy systems to generate scenarios that succeed in limiting future atmospheric CO2 concentration to no more than 450 ppmv Detailed yet accessible meticulously researched and reviewed this work constitutes an indispensable textbook and reference for students and practitioners in sustainable energy and engineering Spills of Emulsified Fuels National Research Council,Transportation Research Board,Marine Board,Division on Earth and Life Studies,Ocean Studies Board,2002-01-29

Spills of Emulsified Fuels Risks and Response is part of an evolving body of work conducted by the National Research Council NRC to help inform debate and decision making regarding the ecological consequences of releases associated with the widespread use of fossil fuels Like earlier NRC reports it attempts to understand the chemical physical and biological behavior of a complex mix of compounds that make up various petroleum hydrocarbon based fuels The specific risk factors presented by emulsified fuels are difficult to characterize mainly because there have been no spills of emulsified fuels to date and thus there is little practical experience with these products Advances in Data Science and Management Samarjeet Borah,Valentina Emilia Balas,Zdzislaw

Polkowski,2020-01-13 This book includes high quality papers presented at the International Conference on Data Science and Management ICDSM 2019 organised by the Gandhi Institute for Education and Technology Bhubaneswar from 22 to 23 February 2019 It features research in which data science is used to facilitate the decision making process in various application areas and also covers a wide range of learning methods and their applications in a number of learning problems The empirical studies theoretical analyses and comparisons to psychological phenomena described contribute to the development of products to meet market demands
