My Educational Autobiography

I remember my parents recently telling me all these stories about how they never got the chance to go to school and have a good education. Both of them have somewhat similar stories that they have shared with me. Both of my parents came from very poor, but large families and had grown up in very small villages in Vietnam. They both had responsibilities of working to provide food and care for their siblings since they were both one of the oldest in the family. My mom explained how her parents had to go out to sea and fish daily to make only a few cents in U.S. currency, and how she literally had to care for her brothers as a mother would at the age of only nine. It was only until she and her family had moved to the United States when she was about the age of fifteen years. Then and there, she was finally given the opportunity to go to school, but only for a little while due to having financial issues within the family, which caused her to drop out and work full time. My dad actually never got the opportunity to get an education because his family simply just couldn't afford to send anyone in his family to school, and by the time he had moved to the U.S., it was already considered to be too late. He ended up having to work several jobs just to support himself because he had came here with nothing.

Due to their experience and lack of opportunity to good or decent education, growing up, my parents always made sure I had activities to do that would help me speak, read, or write in order to learn the English language. They provided me with everything I needed because they wanted to make sure I was given a better life and childhood than them. When it came to school

How To Write An Educational Autobiography:

Writing Educational Biography Craig Kridel, 2013-11-26 This collection examines the many influences of biographical inquiry in education and discusses methodological issues from the perspective of veteran and novice biographers Contributors underscore the documentary interpretive and literary concerns of biographical and archival work and their essays reveal the complexity distinctiveness and sense of exploration of scholarly endeavors

Writing an Educational Autobiography as a Way to Become a Reflective Teacher Isti Rokhiyah, 2015 This dissertation presents my educational autobiography the result of my reflection on experiences during my school life my teaching life and my life as a mother to reveal who I am personally and professionally in my journey to become a reflective teacher a teacher who takes her students wellbeing into her mind in the everyday life of classrooms and schools In order to write my stories I searched incidences that related to my experiences with learning and teaching and making sense of them Through the process of framing and reframing my experiences I gained a better understanding of my journey as an educator and became capable of articulating my experiences along this journey My broad goal in this thesis is to improve the quality of teacher education at Universitas Terbuka UT through broadening the notion of reflection in its curriculum As writing autobiography is one of the pathways to becoming a reflective teacher I would like to experience the process of writing autobiography before I introduce the idea to student teachers I would like to experience the dark the disoriented the dreadful feeling and the brightness of writing autobiography narratively Writing my autobiography not only helped me to excavate my old lives and make meaning out of them revealing my self but also to realise the importance of learning from my experience Professionally writing my autobiography helped to overcome my fear of writing The process of making meaning of incidents was strengthened by my understanding of concepts and theories that could be used to illuminate them I gained new knowledge because writing my autobiography encouraged me to search for related literatures that helped me understand my experiences From my experience of writing my autobiography and synthesizing theories and practices of reflection in teacher education I propose ideas to improve UT s teacher education by strengthening the notion of reflection in its curriculum

Strategies for Student Support During a Global Crisis Herron, Jeffrey D., Douglas, Taurean, 2021-06-25 When a global crisis impacts nearly every industry education is always one of the most impacted as students and faculty must frantically try to maintain their educational programs throughout uncertain times Beyond the educational courses themselves being shifted online or to hybrid approaches there must be a focus on the impact on students as well With newfound ways of learning new online environments and new methods for teaching students are greatly impacted by the changing face of education The traditional ways in which students have been served and assisted have changed rapidly and to make matters even more challenging students must handle both living in a time of crisis while adapting to swift educational transformations The dissemination of best practices and maintaining student success during global crises is an area of research that is not only growing in interest but is critical in pandemic times Strategies for Student Support During a Global Crisis reflects on how educational professionals have worked with students during global crises how serving and teaching students have been impacted and the best practices for student success in both online education and hybrid formats The chapters will include topics such as mentoring models teaching methods educational technologies teacher insights academic support services and more This book is ideal for educational professionals leaders school administration teachers teacher educators practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students interested in the best strategies for supporting students and promoting student success during global crises

Value of the Educational Autobiography as a Method of Studying Occupational Interest Patterns and Adjustment of College Students LeRoy Wensel Ullrich, 1954 A Memoir of an Educational Biographer Gerald L. Gutek, 2024-09-01 In his interdisciplinary memoir Gerald Gutek applies history and philosophy of education to educational biography The author was guided by his focusing goals of exploring his path to becoming an educational biographer and working generalizations with his colleagues in the field Gutek's narrative begins with the author's childhood experiences that inclined him to a career in education followed by chapters on his doctoral program in the College of Education at the University of Illinois in Champaign Urbana his teaching of history and philosophy and education in the School of Education at Loyola University Chicago his research and writing of biographies of Johann Heinrich Pestalozzi and Joseph Neef and his textbook Historical and Philosophical Foundations of Education a Biographical Introduction and issues and strategies in writing about Maria Montessori Throughout the book Gutek analyzes concepts and applications he developed as an educational biographer such as parallel biographies slice of life writing reconsidering overlooked and understudied educators and the role of place and space in telling life stories

ENDORSEMENTS Readers both new to educational biography or familiar with the discipline will find a valuable account of the author's long and varied career as a biographer From his childhood memory of listening to neighbors stories in his grandfather's grocery store to encounters with the important teachers in his life Gutek brings his own story to life As he recounts the influences on his personal intellectual history and the processes of his research and writing readers gain valuable insights into the methods of an experienced educational biographer Larry Prochner University of Alberta For fifty years Gerald Gutek has been and remains one of the seminal and leading voices in the field of educational biography thus it only makes sense for him to create something new an intellectual memoir From his work on Counts in 1970 to his work on Montessori 2016 and her acolytes in the US 2020 Gutek has reliably bridged the worlds of educational history educational biography and philosophical foundations of education this work cements his legacy Gutek skillfully interweaves personal and family history with movements in educational history both formal and informal then explains how these impacted his thinking and writing Throughout this eminently readable memoir Gutek also includes political and historical context without engaging in divisiveness Scholars of life writing should give this a close reading as Gutek sprinkles nuggets of methodological brilliance throughout the manuscript Junior scholars would do well to read Gutek's more substantive sections on the methods used to write each of his books it is the academic equivalent of Master Class in textual form Ed Janak University of Toledo

Writing on the Wall David S. Martins, Brooke R. Historians, and Autobiography Jeremy D. Popkin, 2005-05-09 Though history and autobiography both claim to tell true stories about the past historians have traditionally rejected first person accounts as subjective and therefore unreliable What then asks Jeremy D Popkin in History Historians and Autobiography are we to make of the ever increasing number of professional historians who are publishing stories of their own lives And how is this recent development changing the nature of history writing the historical profession and the genre of autobiography Drawing on the theoretical work of contemporary critics of autobiography and the philosophy of Paul Ricoeur Popkin reads the autobiographical classics of Edward Gibbon and Henry Adams and the memoirs of contemporary historians such as Emmanuel Le Roy Ladurie Peter Gay Jill Ker Conway and many others he reveals the contributions historians life stories make to our understanding of the human experience Historians autobiographies he shows reveal how scholars arrive at their vocations the difficulties of writing about modern professional life and the ways in which personal stories can add to our understanding of historical events such as war political movements and the traumas of the Holocaust An engrossing overview of the way historians view themselves and their profession this work will be of interest to readers concerned with the ways in which we understand the past as well as anyone interested in the art of life writing The Yale Review ,1919 Community-Based Qualitative Research Laura Ruth

Language Identity, Learning, and Teaching in Costa Rica Lena Barrantes-Elizondo,Cinthya Olivares-Garita,2023-07-19 This edited collection provides a comprehensive and locally situated understanding of English language teaching from the perspective of dedicated and experienced language professionals and researchers in Costa Rica The book uses a series of reflective sections that interconnect theory and practice in a non English dominant context in order to inform and transform pedagogical practices The chapters depict a wide ranging image of English language teaching and learning in the region encouraging in service teachers TESOL specialists and ELT scholars to critically reassess rethink and relearn teaching and learning as more than a political decision in an educational curriculum Ultimately promoting the practice as dynamic ever changing and culturally situated the book will be highly relevant to researchers academics scholars and faculty in the fields of teacher education educational research EFL and modern foreign languages The Assessment Debate Valerie J.

Janesick,2001-11-14 An authoritative reference on one of education s hottest topics describing how the latest testing and assessment tools can be used to help improve student performance In this comprehensive review of the wealth of techniques by which students can be assessed Valerie J Janesick points out that the politics of schooling often gets in the way of student progress High stakes standardized testing is frequently based on poorly constructed unfair tests that encourage teaching to the test which actually impedes educational goals Authentic testing relies more on essays and writing samples performances demonstrations and role plays Although it is fairer and provides a measure of student growth and progress it requires more effort by teachers who also require extra training Besides discussing authentic assessment in detail The Assessment Debate includes a chronology an annotated directory of organizations supporting performance assessment a list of state coordinators for testing reform and state by state report cards

How to Teach Manners in the School-room Julia M. Dewey,1894 Sounds of Silence Breaking Janet L. Miller,2005 This book contains a broad range of Miller's writings and intertwines interpretations of educational theories, events and practices throughout private and public dimensions of Miller's life. Comparing Judaism and Christianity E. P. Sanders, 2016-10-01 Few scholars have so shaped the contemporary debate on the relation of early Christianity to early Judaism as E. P. Sanders and no one has produced a clearer or more distinctive vision of that relationship as it was expressed in the figures of Jesus of Nazareth and Paul the apostle. Gathered for the first time within one cover here Sanders presents formative essays that show the structure of his approach and the insights it produces into Paul's relationship to Judaism and the Jewish law. Sanders addresses matters of definition common to Judaism: covenantal nomism, diversity, the Judaism of the Dead Sea Scrolls and the Diaspora, and key exegetical and historical questions relative to Jesus, Paul, and Christian origins in relationship to early Judaism. These essays show a leading scholar at his most erudite as he carries forward and elaborates many of the insights that have become touchstones in New Testament interpretation.
