been our aim bearing in mind this first and somewhat restless interest to cover a wide rather than a restricted field and this being so and remembering also the limitations of space we cannot pretend and do not for a moment wish it to be assumed that we pretend to cover exhaustively the various topics we discuss Our endeavour in the pages at our disposal has not been to satisfy completely this first curiosity of the novice but rather to stimulate and strengthen it and guide it so to say on lines which will lead to a fuller and more detailed research It is from this point of view as a short yet comprehensive introduction and particularly as an aid to the beginner in his choice of a school and in what may be called his mental preparation for the stages of his tuition that we desire our book to be regarded How to Fly Gordon Baxter,1981 The Joy of Learning to Fly Gay Dalby Maher,1984
