

Concept 14: Elimination
Test Bank

MULTIPLE CHOICE

1. A patient who was diagnosed with senile dementia has become incontinent of urine. The patient's daughter asks the nurse why this is happening. The best response by the nurse is:

a.	"The patient is angry about the dementia diagnosis."
b.	"The patient is losing sphincter control due to the dementia."
c.	"The patient forgets where the bathroom is located due to the dementia."
d.	"The patient wants to leave the hospital."

ANS: B

Anger, wanting to leave the hospital, and forgetting where the bathroom is really have no bearing on the urinary incontinence. The patient is incontinent due to the mental ability to voluntarily control the sphincter. This is happening because of the dementia.

REF: 141

OBJ: NCLEX® Client Needs Category: Psychosocial Integrity

2. You are caring for a patient who has suffered a spinal cord injury. You are concerned about the patient's elimination status. As the nurse, your primary concern is to

a.	speak with the patient's family about food choices.
b.	establish a bowel and bladder program for the patient.
c.	speak with the patient about past elimination habits.
d.	establish a bedtime ritual for the

Cybercrime Unveiled: Technologies for Analysing Legal Complexity Mohamed Chawki,Ajith Abraham,2025-02-11 The book offers a comprehensive examination of the ever evolving landscape of cybercrime Bringing together experts from various legal and technical backgrounds this book presents an integrated approach to understanding the complexities of cyber threats It explores various topics from social engineering and AI enhanced cybercrime to international cybersecurity governance and the Dark Web's role in money laundering. By offering theoretical insights and practical case studies, the book is a vital resource for policymakers, cybersecurity professionals, legal experts, and academics seeking to grasp the intricacies of cybercrime. This book includes 15 rigorously selected chapters from 31 submissions chosen through a double-blind peer review by an international panel of referees. Each chapter delves into a unique aspect of cybercrime, from the role of AI in modern cyber threats to the emerging legal challenges posed by global cybersecurity norms. Contributors from around the world provide diverse perspectives, making this book a global reference on the topic of cybercrime and digital security. As cybercrime continues to grow in both complexity and impact, this book highlights the critical importance of collaboration between legal and technical experts. By addressing the key challenges posed by cyber threats, whether through AI, cryptocurrency, or state sovereignty, this book provides readers with actionable insights and strategies to tackle the most pressing issues in the digital age. Experimental Methods for the Analysis of Optimization Algorithms Thomas Bartz-Beielstein, Marco Chiarandini, Luís Paquete, Mike Preuss, 2010-11-02. In operations research and computer science, it is common practice to evaluate the performance of optimization algorithms on the basis of computational results, and the experimental approach should follow accepted principles that guarantee the reliability and reproducibility of results. However, computational experiments differ from those in other sciences, and the last decade has seen considerable methodological research devoted to understanding the particular features of such experiments and assessing the related statistical methods. This book consists of methodological contributions on different scenarios of experimental analysis. The first part overviews the main issues in the experimental analysis of algorithms and discusses the experimental cycle of algorithm development; the second part treats the characterization by means of statistical distributions of algorithm performance in terms of solution quality, runtime, and other measures; and the third part collects advanced methods from experimental design for configuring and tuning algorithms on a specific class of instances with the goal of using the least amount of experimentation. The contributor list includes leading scientists in algorithm design, statistical design, optimization, and heuristics, and most chapters provide theoretical background and are enriched with case studies. This book is written for researchers and practitioners in operations research and computer science who wish to improve the experimental assessment of optimization algorithms and consequently their design.
