Vaughn, 2022-02-07 In Engineering Vulnerability Sarah E Vaughn examines climate adaptation against the backdrop of ongoing processes of settler colonialism and the global climate change initiatives that seek to intervene in the lives of the world's most vulnerable Her case study is Guyana in the aftermath of the 2005 catastrophic flooding that ravaged the country's Atlantic coastal plain The country's ensuing engineering projects reveal the contingencies of climate adaptation and the capacity of flooding to shape Guyanese expectations about racial inequality Analyzing the coproduction of race and vulnerability Vaughn details why climate adaptation has implications for how we understand the past and the continued human settlement of a place Such understandings become particularly apparent not only through experts and ordinary citizens' disputes over resources but in their attention to the ethical practice of technoscience over time Approaching climate adaptation this way Vaughn exposes the generative openings as well as gaps in racial thinking for theorizing climate action environmental justice and more broadly future life on a warming planet Duke University Press Scholars of Color First Book Award recipient Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,1993

Fractivism Sara Ann Wylie,2018-01-25 From flammable tap water and sick livestock to the recent onset of hundreds of earthquakes in Oklahoma the impact of fracking in the United States is far reaching and deeply felt In Fractivism Sara Ann Wylie traces the history of fracking and the ways scientists and everyday people are coming together to hold accountable an industry that has managed to evade regulation Beginning her story in Colorado Wylie shows how nonprofits landowners and community organizers are creating novel digital platforms and databases to track unconventional oil and gas well development and document fracking's environmental and human health impacts These platforms model alternative approaches for academic and grassroots engagement with the government and the fossil fuel industry A call to action Fractivism outlines a way forward for not just the fifteen million Americans who live within a mile of an unconventional oil or gas well but for the planet as a whole Congressional Record United States. Congress,2013 EBOOK: Sports in Society Jay Coakley,Elizabeth Pike,2014-04-16 Using a topics based approach organized around provocative questions about the interaction of sports culture and society Sports in Society presents an accessible introduction to research and theory in the sociology of sport This new edition continues the legacy of the previous editions while introducing new material and examples that bring theory to life Current debates in sports such as how youth participation can be increased or sport funding allocated have been integrated throughout the text to provide a holistic view of society An Online Learning Centre accompanies this book offering a range of lecturer support materials as well as resources and tests for students Fat Talk Virginia Sole-Smith,2023-04-25 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER A Book Riot best book of 2023 A Science Friday best book of 2023 An Audible best well being audiobook of 2023 By the time they reach kindergarten most kids believe that fat is bad By middle school more than a quarter of them have gone on a diet What are parents supposed to do Kids learn as we've all learned that thinness is a survival strategy in a world that equates body size and value Parents worry if their kids care too much about being thin but even more about the consequences if they aren't And multibillion dollar industries thrive on this fear of fatness We've fought the war on obesity for over forty years and Americans aren't thinner or happier with their bodies But it's not our kids or their weight who need fixing In this illuminating narrative journalist Virginia Sole Smith exposes the daily onslaught of fatphobia and body shaming that kids face from school sports doctors diet culture and parents themselves and offers strategies for how families can change the conversation around weight health and self worth Fat Talk is a stirring deeply researched and groundbreaking book that will help parents learn to reckon with their own body biases identify diet culture and empower their kids to navigate this challenging landscape Sole Smith draws on her extensive reporting and interviews with dozens of parents and kids to offer a provocative new approach for thinking about food and bodies and a way for us all to work toward a more weight inclusive world

Infants and Children Laura E. Berk, 2022-07-26 In the Ninth Edition of Infants and Children Prenatal Through Middle Childhood renowned professor researcher and author Laura E Berk takes an integrated approach to presenting development in the physical cognitive emotional and social domains emphasizing the complex interchanges between heredity and environment providing exceptional multicultural and cross cultural focus and offering research based practical applications that students can relate to their personal and professional lives

Bodies, Technologies and Methods Phil Jones, 2020-04-14 This book examines how different technologies can be used to enhance research methods in the social sciences and humanities The boundary between the body and the digital has become increasingly blurred in recent years due to the rise of technologies that capture and reshape our embodied selves New technologies all too often reflect the attitudes of the privileged white men who dominate the tech sector This book thus in part considers how critical researchers can employ new technologies while challenging some of the problematic assumptions that underpin their design It also includes a series of case studies that examine the dynamic use of different techniques to explore key questions around the intersection of embodiment and the digital With a playful experimental approach to conducting research today this book offers new cutting edge methods that respond to the potential of different technologies It will be invaluable reading for undergraduate and post graduate students of social sciences and humanities to explore ways in which this approach can bring new insights to a range of interdisciplinary research questions
