methodologies Combinational Immunotherapy of Cancer: Novel Targets, Mechanisms, and Strategies Xuyao Zhang,Xian Zeng,Yubin Li,Dianwen Ju,2024-01-15 Cancer immunotherapy including immune checkpoint inhibitors ICIs and chimeric antigen receptor T cell CAR T therapy has revolutionized the paradigm in cancer treatment However the clinical outcome of immunotherapy varies considerably among patients and only a minority of patients achieve long term clinical benefits This is largely attributed to the fact that existing cancer immunotherapies which concentrate on several classical targets CTLA 4 PD 1 PD L1 etc and limited types of immune cell populations T cells are insufficient to cope with the complexity of highly heterogeneous tumor microenvironment TME This calls for more efforts to not only expand our toolbox for manipulating anticancer immunity but also diversify our combinational strategies To this end it is urgent to deeper our understanding of cancer immunotherapy by using both experimental and computational methodologies from multi scale perspectives 1 novel targets from either tumor cells or non tumor cells within TME e g tumor intrinsic resistance drivers new immune checkpoints neoantigens 2 in depth characterization of more immune cell populations e g macrophages Tregs B cells and their interactions and dynamics within TME 3 landscape of actionable targets in patient populations for combination design These efforts will open the avenue of rational design of combinational immunotherapies allowing researchers and clinicians to design novel targeting therapeutics or to optimally orchestrate combinatory strategies aiming to surmount resistance mechanisms and improve clinical outcomes Understanding Developmental Dyslexia: Linking Perceptual and Cognitive Deficits to Reading Processes

Pierluigi Zoccolotti,Peter F. de Jong,Donatella Spinelli,2016-06-24 Understanding the mechanisms responsible for developmental dyslexia DD is a key challenge for researchers A large literature mostly concerned with learning to read in opaque orthographies emphasizes phono logical interpretations of the disturbance Other approaches focused on the visual per ceptual aspects of orthographic coding Recently this perspective was supported by imaging data showing that individuals with DD have hypo activation in occipito temporal areas a finding common to both transpar ent and opaque orthographies Nevertheless it is difficult to infer causal relationships from activation data Accommodating these findings within the cognitive architecture of reading processes is still an open issue This is a general problem which is present in much of the literature For example several studies investigating the perceptual and cognitive abilities that distinguish groups of children with and without DD failed to provide explicit links with the reading process Thus several areas of investigation e g acoustic deficits or magnocellular deficiencies have been plagued by replication failures Furthermore much research has neglected the possible contribution of comorbid symptoms By contrast it is now well established that developmental disorders present a large spectrum of homotopic and heterotopic co morbidities that make causal interpretations problematic This has led to the idea that the etiology of learning difficulties is multifactorial thus challenging the traditional models of DD Recent genetic studies provide information on the multiple risk factors that contribute to the genesis of the disturbance Another critical issue in DD is that much of the research has been conducted in English speaking individuals However English is a highly irregular orthography and doubts have been raised on the appropriateness of automatically extending interpretations based on English to other more regular orthographies By contrast important information can be gotten from systematic comparisons across languages Thus the distinction between regular and irregular orthographies is another potentially fruitful area of investigation Overall in spite of much research current interpretations seem unable to integrate all available findings Some proposals focus on the cognitive description of the reading profile and explicitly ignore the distal causes of the disturbance Others propose visual acoustic or phonological mechanisms but fail to link them to the pattern of reading impairment present in different children The present Research Topic brings together studies based on different methodological approaches i e behavioural studies examining cognitive and psycholinguistic factors eye movement investigations biological markers neuroimaging and genetic studies involving dyslexic groups with and without comorbid symptoms and in different orthographies transparent and opaque to identify the mechanisms underlying DD The RT does not focus on a single model or theory of dyslexia but rather brings together different approaches and ideas which we feel are fruitful for a deeper understanding developmental dyslexia

,2023-09-05 Obesity is increasing in epidemic proportions worldwide A low grade inflammation caused by obesity leads to its many inflammation associated complications including insulin resistance type 2 diabetes accelerated atherosclerosis nonalcoholic steatohepatitis that can lead to liver cirrhosis heart failure cancer and Alzheimer s disease This systemic inflammation is due to profound changes in the adipose tissue microenvironment at the heart of which is the adipocyte Increasing evidence suggests the adipocyte not only stores excess energy but initiates an escalating pro inflammatory cascade in adipose tissue during high fat diet The adipocyte secretes over 50 cytokines and hormones that both enhance and suppress inflammation secretes extracellular matrix proteins that impact inflammation produces and releases toxic lipids that aggravate inflammation and more recently was shown to present antigen to activate CD4 T cells Although discovered several decades ago studies continue to identify pro inflammatory roles for leptin and anti inflammatory activities for adiponectin hormones secreted in large amounts by the adipocyte Handbook on Measurement, Assessment, and Evaluation in Higher Education Charles Secolsky,D. Emerging Molecular Signaling Pathways and Therapeutic Targets for Genitourinary Cancer Metastasis Jinbo Chen,Yin Sun,Meng Zhang,2022-04-25 Breaking the cycle: attacking the malaria parasite in the liver Ute Frevert,Urszula Krzych, Thomas L. Richie,2016-01-06

Despite significant progress in the global fight against malaria this parasitic infection is still responsible for nearly 300 million clinical cases and more than half a million deaths each year predominantly in African children less than 5 years of age The infection starts when mosquitoes transmit small numbers of parasites into the skin From here the parasites travel with the bloodstream to the liver where they undergo an initial round of replication and maturation to the next developmental stage that infects red blood cells A vaccine capable of blocking the clinically silent liver phase of the Plasmodium life cycle would prevent the subsequent symptomatic phase of this tropical disease including its frequently fatal manifestations such as severe anemia acute lung injury and cerebral malaria Parasitologists immunologists and vaccinologists have come to appreciate the complexity of the adaptive immune response against the liver stages of this deadly parasite Lymphocytes play a central role in the elimination of Plasmodium infected hepatocytes both in humans and animal models but our understanding of the exact cellular interactions and molecular effector mechanisms that lead to parasite killing within the complex hepatic microenvironment of an immune host is still rudimentary Nevertheless recent collaborative efforts have led to promising vaccine approaches based on liver stages that have conferred sterile immunity in humans the University of Oxford s Ad prime MVA boost vaccine the Naval Medical Research Center s DNA prime Ad boost vaccine Sanaria Inc s radiation attenuated whole sporozoite vaccine and Radboud University Medical Centre s and Sanaria s derived chemoprophylaxis with sporozoites vaccines The aim of this Research Topic is to bring together researchers with expertise in malariology immunology hepatology antigen discovery and vaccine development to provide a better understanding of the basic biology of Plasmodium in the liver and the host s innate and adaptive immune responses Understanding the conditions required to generate complete protection in a vaccinated individual will bring us closer to our ultimate goal namely to develop a safe scalable and affordable malaria vaccine capable of inducing sustained high level protective immunity in the large proportion of the world s population constantly at risk of malaria Wealth, Virtue, and Moral Luck Kate Ward,2021-10-01 In Wealth Virtue and Moral Luck Kate Ward addresses the issue of inequality from the perspective of Christian virtue ethics arguing that our individual life circumstances affect our ability to pursue virtue and showing how Christians and Christian communities should respond to create a world where it is easier for people to be virtuous

Mental Health Promotion and Protection Naseem Akhtar Qureshi, Samrat Singh Bhandari, Giorgio Di Lorenzo, Harshavardhan Sampath, 2023-09-13 The WHO constitution states Health is a state of complete physical mental and social well being and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity There are multiple factors that contribute towards good mental health including civil liberties politics economics social rights and cultural diversity and quality of life of the individual and the society as a whole The promotion of mental health spans many disciplines in order to cover all these factors such as education work justice housing and welfare Therefore it is important to collaborate to create an environment that promotes and supports mental health to improve psychological well being and allow individuals to realize their own abilities work productively and contribute to society and live fulfilling lives There is no health without mental health that is vital to individuals families communities and societies across the world and so the goal of this Research Topic is to collate ideas and research of strategies for the promotion of mental health across all disciplines in order to raise awareness of mental health promotion and protection to ensure its incorporation in national mental health policies going forwards This is of particular relevance given the mental health crisis being experienced across the world right now

Protein Phosphorylation in Health and Disease Allegra Via, Andreas Zanzoni, 2016-08-11 Protein phosphorylation is one of the most abundant reversible post translational modifications in eukaryotes It is involved in virtually all cellular processes by regulating protein function localization and stability and by mediating protein protein interactions Furthermore aberrant protein phosphorylation is implicated in the onset and progression of human diseases such as cancer and neurodegenerative disorders In the last years tens of thousands of in vivo phosphorylation events have been identified by large scale quantitative phospho proteomics experiment suggesting that a large fraction of the proteome might be regulated by phosphorylation This data explosion is increasingly enabling the development of computational approaches often combined with experimental validation aiming at prioritizing phosphosites and assessing their functional relevance Some computational approaches also address the inference of specificity determinants of protein kinases phosphatases and the identification of phosphoresidue recognition domains In this context several challenging issues are still open regarding phosphorylation including a better understanding of the interplay between phosphorylation and allosteric regulation agents and mechanisms disrupting or promoting abnormal phosphorylation in diseases the identification and modulation of novel phosphorylation inhibitors and so forth Furthermore the determinants of kinase and phosphatase recognition and binding specificity are still unknown in several cases as well as the impact of disease mutations on phosphorylation mediated signaling The articles included in this Research Topic illustrate the very diverse aspects of phosphorylation ranging from structural changes induced by phosphorylation to the peculiarities of phosphosite evolution Some also provide a glimpse into the huge complexity of phosphorylation networks and pathways in health and disease and underscore that a deeper knowledge of such processes is essential to identify disease biomarkers on one hand and design more effective therapeutic strategies on the other
