African Economic Development

Christopher Cramer, John Sender, Arkebe Oqubay, 2020 This book challenges conventional wisdoms about economic performance and possible policies for economic development in African countries Its starting point is the striking variation in African economic performance Unevenness and inequalities form a central fact of African economic experiences The authors highlight not only differences between countries but also variations within countries differences often organized around distinctions of gender class and ethnic identity For example neo natal mortality and school dropout have been reduced particularly for some classes of women in some areas of Africa Horticultural and agribusiness exports have grown far more rapidly in some countries than in others These variations and many others point to opportunities for changing performance reducing inequalities learning from other policy experiences and escaping the ties of structure and the legacies of a colonial past The book rejects teleological illusions and Eurocentric prejudice but it does pay close attention to the results of policy in more industrialized parts of the world Seeing the contradictions of capitalism for what they are fundamental and enduring may help policy officials protect themselves against the misleading idea that development can be expected to be a smooth linear process or that it would be were certain impediments suddenly removed The authors criticize a wide range of orthodox and heterodox economists especially for their cavalier attitude to evidence Drawing on their own decades of research and policy experience they combine careful use of available evidence from a range of African countries with political economy insights mainly derived from Kalecki Kaldor and Hirschman to make the policy case for specific types of public sector investment

Working with indigenous knowledge Fhumulani M. Mulaudzi, Rachel T. Lebesse, 2022 The aim of the book is to assist both local and international scholars in articulating the scholarly discourse on indigenous health attitudes practices and experiences The indigenous lens that was used to generate and disseminate indigenous knowledge in this book will strengthen indigenous scholarship thus making it accessible to a wider audience In addition the information shared in this book will add value for scholars and assist them with the indigenous knowledge needed to address sustainable development goals This book is timeless and topical as the discourse on the decolonisation of the curriculum is widely debated in the higher education space The discourse on the scholarship of indigenous knowledge as the tacit local knowledge that stems from cultural practices within communities has not been well articulated in the current health science education milieu Indigenous knowledge has remained overlooked and undermined for a very long time and the information remains untapped in local communities The scholars who conducted the research on which this book is based unearthed a wealth of knowledge which was tacit in nature and translated it into implicit knowledge that can be documented and shared with other scholars globally This knowledge will assist health care scholars in benefiting from knowledge practices and cultural beliefs that will assist them in health care planning teaching evidence based practice and further research

Choice and conscience: Lessons from South Africa for a global debate Satang Nabaneh, 2023-11-08 Choice and Conscience offers a fresh and insightful perspective on the highly debated issue of conscientious objection in abortion care Satang Nabaneh's socio legal approach which draws on both traditional legal scholarship and African feminist intellectual traditions provides a nuanced understanding of how legal norms construct and maintain power relations By focusing on the experiences of nurses in South Africa Nabaneh explores the complexities of conscience discretionary power and socio cultural and political factors that influence nurses decisions about whether or not to conscientiously object In the wake of the recent rollback of abortion rights in the United States and the trend towards liberalisation within the African region Nabaneh provides an important African perspective on how the international human rights framework should strike a contextual balance between freedom of conscience and ensuring access to abortion Choice and Conscience will interest lawyers activists policymakers scholars and students exploring the dynamic intersections of law healthcare and gender politics Choice and Conscience stands as a significant and valuable addition to the ongoing global scholarship on this critical issue It underscores the vital concept that intersectionality should occupy a central place in our examination of how various local contexts give rise to layered forms of privilege and disadvantage Dr Tlaleng Mofokeng UN Special Rapporteur on the right to health Nabaneh s study of law in action zeros in on South African nurses gatekeepers who often object to the practice for reasons of conscience Her interviews of these nurses and her analysis complicate our understanding of challenges to abortion access providing lessons applicable not only to South Africa and other African countries but everywhere where there is a gap between formal law and its application Mindy Jane Roseman JD PhD Yale Law School Written from an African feminist perspective this book offers fresh insights into our understanding of the intersection between politics mobilisation of discretionary power and the exercise of conscientious objection to abortion by mid level providers Charles Ngwenya Professor of Law Centre for Human Rights University of Pretoria This book offers powerful insights about how informal and background norms in health systems function constrain or enable reproductive justice Focusing on conscientious objection to abortion by nurses including midwives in South Africa Nabaneh sketches the importance of a feminist analysis that is situated in Africans lived realities Alicia Ely Yamin Harvard University Young People, Violence and Strategic Interventions in Sub-Saharan Africa Kammila Naidoo, Oluwafemi Adeagbo, Xiaoming Li, 2023-01-20 This edited volume offers a rich collection of up to date research and critical scholarship from various African institutions on incidents of youth violence intervention and prevention in sub Saharan Africa It integrates thinking evidence responses and debates relating to this topic laying the basis for fresh insights and innovative strategies The chapters capture a spectrum of pertinent issues such as economic hardship lockdowns sexual and reproductive health pregnancy online sexual harassment xenophobic violence and micro aggressions in school contexts and present guidelines on how countries might learn from successful interventions recently implemented They explore young people s access to familial and community resources state sponsored initiatives peer counselling youth friendly services and other relevant structures Thus among other things this volume stimulates further debate on what is driving violence in different African contexts specifically how intersectional identities create vulnerabilities to violence and influences ways of dealing with the issue This interdisciplinary and cross cutting volume serves as a vital resource for experts at universities in international organisations civil society groups and intergovernmental organisations who wish to both analyse and take action to address and prevent the type of violence that currently afflicts young people sub Saharan Africa today
