as human killing machines And they allowed it to happen Addressing one of the most serious threats to the world today Human Killing Machines applies the model of systematic indoctrination to case studies of brutality in Iran Nazi Germany Al Qaeda and Abu Ghraib The book reveals how these transformations take place how systems redefine morality to turn ordinary people into torturers terrorists and genocidal killers Analyzing the key differences between these cases also helps to identify the safeguards which limit violence Lankford demonstrates the weaknesses of indoctrination the ways heroic individuals have resisted its influence and the potential for countermeasures Based on these examples he offers recommendations for how we can begin to reform the U S military and increase its accountability reduce Al Qaeda terrorists commitment to their missions and spark an awakening in Iran so that the oppressive regime goes out with a whimper not with a bang

Meeting the Inclusion Challenge in Innovation Tatiana Iakovleva, Elin M. Oftedal, John Bessant, 2024-11-18 User inclusion in innovation is increasingly the target of policy rhetoric at both organizational and societal levels And extensive research has demonstrated the potential contribution that users can make both at the front end of innovation with their ideas and insights and downstream facilitating adoption and diffusion However translating this potential into practice remains problematic not least because we need to understand more about how to hear user voices amplify their insights and provide practical channels for inclusion to ensure full co creation of innovation Our earlier book from 2019 Responsible Innovation in Digital Health Edward Elgar added to the growing body of knowledge around whether users can be involved and this book opens up the how theme Our work suggested a spectrum of user involvement ranging from those who can participate fully to those who are passive players in the innovation process and we explore in this book different tools techniques and mechanisms for enabling such users to become more involved in the innovation process We look at the concept of boundary innovation spaces as environments in which co creation can be enabled drawing on experience across a wide international research network We also explore the broader innovation environment the specific networks of actors and their interactions which define the innovation ecosystem where user inclusion may be embedded This book moves the discussion beyond the question of whether users can be more effectively included throughout the innovation process to explore the ways in which this might be enabled
