READING & DISCUSSION GUIDE

1. Working alone or in groups, discuss: "Does Fahrenheit's burning of 'books' reflect how we, as a society, use information, or does it reflect our attitude toward knowledge?" "Working together, 'burn' the words 'The destruction of libraries and the burning of books' from the text. What does this destruction of libraries and the burning of books represent? What does it tell us about the role of libraries in society? What does it tell us about the role of books in society?"

2. Describe Fahrenheit's character traits as a burning person.

3. "The book is the only thing that is left of the world, the only thing that is left of the world, and the only thing that is left of the world." "The book is the only thing that is left of the world, the only thing that is left of the world, and the only thing that is left of the world." "The book is the only thing that is left of the world, the only thing that is left of the world, and the only thing that is left of the world."

4. Create a list of the top 10 books that you would like to read. Write the title of the book and the author's name.
