

GENERAL EDITOR'S NOTE ON THE SECOND EDITION

PUBLICATION of English Historical Documents began in 1961. Since that date, death has removed several of those who were actively interested in the enterprise at the time of its inception. Among these may be mentioned Douglas Jenold, F. M. Sexton, H. P. R. Finberg, A. Hamilton Thompson, G. M. Young, Andrew Browning, D. B. Horn, Arthur Aspinall and Harry Rothwell. Despite these grievous losses, it has been possible to continue the work over the years and to foresee the completion of the series by the early 1980s. All those who have taken part in it have had abundant reason to be grateful for the kindness and appreciation with which the publication has been received. Evidently these books have proved of service and of interest to many of those who study or who teach the history of England. Historical research has not stood still during the last two or three decades. Several of the volumes have passed a score of years in print, and, since these, with others, are in continuous demand, a new edition is called for which, while sustaining the principles embodied in the original publication, will also take due account of recent interpretations and discoveries. Volume II, which is now re-edited, largely by Mr Greenaway, was originally published in 1963.
