ReEngaging ELCA Social Teaching on Abortion Caryn D. Riswold, 2024-08-13 Riswold calls us to think together about the ELCA s 1991 social statement on abortion Our social political and legal context has changed drastically since this statement was written but one thing remains the same we as Lutherans are called to compassionate community What does this mean for us today Riswold invites readers into thoughtful conversation in an engaging and accessible volume that will help individuals faith communities and classrooms engage the complex issues surrounding abortion in the United States ReEngaging ELCA Social Teaching on Abortion draws on theology biblical foundations and Lutheran ethical witness to develop a nuanced and thought provoking analysis of the roots reach and contemporary context of Lutheran social teaching on abortion Placing readers in the shoes of others who might engage this statement Riswold asks us to consider abortion in all its complexity through the lens of neighbor love Suitable for both personal and community use this volume includes discussion questions and a curated list of resources for additional reading

Voices From the Margins , 2008-01-01
Equitable access to education is fundamental to any concept of social justice offering as it does the means of escape from social and economic marginalisation Despite this in too many countries around the world groups of children are systematically denied access to education which will equip them for meaningful participation in the society in which they live Their needs are ignored and their voices are silenced They are locked into the position of marginalised other the perpetual stranger in society This collection of studies by an international group of researchers provides a place for migrant refugee and indigenous children to talk about their school experiences Refugee children from the Sudan Afghanistan and Somalia indigenous children from Sweden Australia New Zealand and Vietnam migrant children in Canada Iceland and Hong Kong urban and rural children from Zanzibar all speak out through drawings small group and individual discussion For some children their school experiences are positive ones in which systems and teachers work together to meet their needs For others their experiences are of racism isolation inadequately equipped and poorly funded schools unsympathetic teachers and education systems designed to cater for majority groups Despite these differences all the children remain enthusiastic about school They are in the words of a boy from Afghanistan thirsty to learn The children and the researchers all argue for education as a means to redress rather than perpetuate disadvantage A vital first step in this process is to hear what is being said by those most affected by current practices The narratives in this text offer a chance to do just that Cover photo
