One Nation under AARP Frederick Lynch, 2011-06-20 This book provides a fresh and even handed account of the newly modernized AARP formerly the American Association of Retired Persons the 40 million member insurance giant and political lobby that continues to set the national agenda for Medicare and Social Security Frederick R

Lynch addresses AARP's courtship of 78 million aging baby boomers and the possibility of harnessing what may be the largest ever senior voting bloc to defend threatened cutbacks to Social Security Medicare and underfunded pension systems. Based on years of research interviews with key strategists and analyses of hundreds of documents, One Nation under AARP profiles a largely white generation raised in the relatively tranquil 1950s and growing old in a twenty-first century nation buffeted by rapid economic, cultural, and demographic change. Lynch argues that an ideologically divided boomer generation must decide whether to resist entitlement reductions through its own political mobilization or by default to empower AARP as it tries to shed its greedy geezer stereotype with an increasingly post-boomer agenda for multigenerational equity.

The Global Edge Prof. Alejandro Portes, Ariel C. Armony, 2018-09-11 Over the last quarter century, no other city like Miami has rapidly transformed into a global city. The Global Edge charts the social tensions and unexpected consequences of this remarkable process of change. Acting as a follow-up to the highly successful City on the Edge, The Global Edge examines Miami in the context of globalization and scrutinizes its newfound place as a major international city. Written by two well-known scholars in the field, the book examines Miami's rise as a finance and banking center and the simultaneous emergence of a highly diverse but contentious ethnic mosaic. The Global Edge serves as a case study of Miami's present cultural, economic, and political transformation and describes how its future course can provide key lessons for other metropolitan areas throughout the world.

Fourth City Doran Larson, 2014-02-01 At 2.26 million incarcerated Americans, not only outnumber the nation's fourth largest city, they make up a national constituency bound by a shared condition. Fourth City: Essays from the Prison in America presents more than seventy essays from twenty-seven states written by incarcerated Americans chronicling their experience inside. In essays as moving as they are eloquent, the authors speak out against a national prison complex that fails so badly at the task of rehabilitation that 60% of the 650,000 Americans released each year return to prison. These essays document the authors' efforts at self-help, the institutional resistance such efforts meet at nearly every turn, and the impact in money and lives that this resistance has on the public. Directly confronting the images of prisons and prisoners manufactured by popular media, so called reality TV and for profit local and national news sources Fourth City recognizes American prisoners as our primary frontline witnesses to the dysfunction of the largest prison system on earth Filled with deeply personal stories of coping survival resistance and transformation Fourth City should be read by every American who believes that law should achieve order in the cause of justice rather than at its cost The Lord's Resistance Army Mareike Schomerus,2021-04 Based on interviews with the notorious armed rebel group the LRA this study explores why efforts at contemporary peacemaking so often fail

The Attainment Agenda Laura W. Perna,Joni E. Finney,2014-05-01 How state leadership determines effective higher education attainment Although the federal government invests substantial resources into student financial aid states have the primary responsibility for policies that raise overall higher educational attainment and improve equity across groups The importance of understanding how states may accomplish these goals has never been greater as educational attainment is increasingly required for economic and social well being of individuals and society Drawing on data collected from case studies of the relationship between public policy and higher education performance in five states Georgia Illinois Maryland Texas and Washington The Attainment Agenda offers a framework for understanding how state public policy can effectively promote educational attainment Laura W Perna and Joni E Finney argue that there is no silver bullet to improve higher education attainment Instead achieving the required levels of attainment demands a comprehensive approach State leaders must consider how performance in one area such as degree completion is connected to performance in other areas such as preparation or affordability how particular policies interact to produce expected and unexpected outcomes and how policy approaches must be adapted to reflect their particular context The authors call for greater attention to the state role in providing policy leadership to advance a cohesive public agenda for higher education and adopting public policies that not only increase the demand for and supply of higher education but also level the playing field for higher educational opportunity The insights offered in The Attainment Agenda have important implications for public policymakers college and university leaders and educational researchers interested in ensuring sustained higher education attainment

Public Services and Financial Austerity R. Latham,M. Prowle,2011-12-12 The authors suggest that some of the problems of the public sector are self inflicted and that current policies may only deliver partial success at a price we cannot afford It proposes a radical alternative and discusses practical ways it could be implemented It also explores the threats and opportunities that such an approach might face
