

Membrane Function

How does the cell membrane control movement of materials?

Why?

The membrane is critical to the maintenance of homeostasis in living organisms. The cell membrane separates the cell from the external environment and plays a critical role in regulating movement of material in and out of the cell. Additionally, eukaryotic cells are made complex by the presence of internal membranes that form organelles, so the cells may become specialized. These organelle membranes create compartments within the cell that can do specific functions.

Model 1 – Types of Ions and Molecules in a Cell

Type 1 Ions	Type 2 Molecules	Type 3 Molecules	Type 4 Molecules
Potassium: K^+	Glucose: 	Water:  Urea: 	Molecular oxygen (O_2): $O=O$ Carbon dioxide (CO_2): $O=C=O$
Sodium: Na^+
Calcium: Ca^{2+}
Chloride: Cl^-
Polar	polar	Polar	nonpolar
small	large	small	small

1. Consider the ions and molecules in Model 1.

a. Identify at least two substances that would need to move into a cell to maintain homeostasis.

The two substances that would need to move into a cell to maintain homeostasis are.. Oxygen, water, sugar, and ions.

b. Briefly explain why the cell needs each of the substances you identified in part a.

Oxygen, water, and glucose are necessary for cellular respiration; and ions for energy.

2. Consider the ions and molecules in Model 1.

a. Identify at least two substances that would need to move out of a cell to maintain homeostasis.

Carbon dioxide, water, ions, and urea would need to come out of the cell.

b. Briefly explain the source of the molecules you identified in part a.

Water and carbon dioxide are a byproduct of cellular respiration

3. Complete the table by labeling the types of substances as polar or nonpolar and large or small.

Rothfield, 2014-06-28 Structure and Function of Biological Membranes explains the membrane phenomena at the molecular level through the use of biochemical and biophysical approaches The book is an in depth study of the structure and function of membranes It is divided into three main parts The first part provides an overview of the study of the biological membrane at the molecular level Part II focuses on the detailed description of the overall molecular organization of membranes The third part covers the relationship of the molecular organization of membranes to specific membrane functions discusses catalytic membrane proteins presents the role of membranes in important cellular functions and looks at the membrane systems in eukaryotic cells Biochemists cell physiologists biologists researchers and graduate and postdoctoral students in the field of biology will find the text a good reference material Biological Membranes Roger Harrison, George G. Lunt, 1980-06-30 to the Second Edition RESEARCH INTO MEMBRANE ASSOCIATED PHENOMENA HAS EXPANDED VERY greatly in the five years that have elapsed since the first edition of Biological Membranes was published It is to take account of rapid advances in the field that we have written the present edition There is now general acceptance of the fluid mosaic model of membrane structure and of the chemiosmotic interpretation of energetic processes and our attention has shifted from justifying these ideas to explaining membrane functions in their terms Much more information has become available concerning the role of the plasma membrane in the cell's recognition of and response to external signals and this is reflected in the increased coverage of these topics in the book The general form of the book remains the same As before a list of suggested reading sub divided by chapter is provided and this has been expanded to include a greater proportion of original papers The book is still primarily designed as an advanced undergraduate text and also to serve as an introduction for post graduate workers entering the field of membrane research We have taken cognizance of the comments of many reviewers colleagues and students on the first edition and thank them for their contributions In particular we wish to acknowledge our colleagues R Eisinger, G D Holman, D W Hough and A H Rose Dr C R
