Poole's Index to Periodical Literature: Fourth supplement, January 1, 1897-January 1, 1902 William Frederick Poole, William Isaac Fletcher, 1903 The Book of Concord (New Translation) Robert Kolb, Timothy J. Wengert, 2000-08-04 A new translation with expanded introductions and annotations The Gospel in Christian Traditions Ted A Campbell, 2008-12-11 Throughout the history of Christianity there have been theological disputes that caused fissures among the faithful There were the major ruptures of the Great Schism of 1054 and the Protestant Reformation Since the Reformation though there has been an eruption of new denominations The World Christian Database now list over 9000 worldwide And new denominations are created every day often when a group splits off from an established church because of a dispute over doctrine or leadership With such a proliferation of denominations could there possibly be one core Christian message that all churches share That s the question that Ted Campbell sets out to answer in this book He begins his examination of Christian doctrine where it started in the gospels He then shows how the gospel has been received and professed by Christian communities through the centuries from the first proto Orthodox Christian communities right through the modern evangelical Pentecostal and ecumenical movements Campbell shows that despite all the divisions there is indeed a single unifying core of the faith that all Christians share In the process he offers a brief well written and acceptable history of Christian doctrine that will be ideal for courses in the history of Christian thought Reformed Systematic Theology. Receiving Back One's Deeds Benjamin M. Dally, 2022-11-16 This book investigates the relationship between justification by faith and final judgment according to works as found in Paul s second epistle to the Corinthians within a Protestant theological framework Benjamin M Dally first demonstrates the diversity and breadth of mainstream Protestant

soteriology and eschatology beginning at the time of the Reformation by examining the confessional standards of its four primary ecclesial theological streams Lutheran Reformed Anabaptist and Anglican The soteriological structure of each is assessed i e how each construes the relationship between justification and final judgment with particular attention given to how each speaks of the place of good works at the final judgment This initial examination outlines the theological boundaries within which the exegesis of Second Corinthians can legitimately proceed and illuminates language and conceptual matrices that will be drawn upon throughout the remainder of the book Then drawing upon the narrative logic of Paul's Early Jewish thought world Dally examines the text of Second Corinthians to discern its own soteriological framework paying particular attention to both the meaning and rhetorical function of the judgment according to works motif as it is utilized throughout the letter The book concludes by offering a Protestant synthesis of the relationship between justification and final judgment according to works in Second Corinthians giving an explanation of the role of works at the final judgment that arguably alleviates a number of tensions often perceived in other readings devoted to this key aspect of Pauline exegesis and theology Dally ultimately argues a three fold thesis 1 For the believer one's earthly conduct taken as a whole is best spoken of in the language of inferior secondary cause and or basis as far as its import at the last judgment 2 One's earthly conduct again taken as a whole is soteriologically necessary not solely but secondarily nonetheless and not simply of importance for the bestowal of non soteriological eschatological rewards 3 There are crucial resources from within mainstream Protestantism to authorize such ways of speaking and to simultaneously affirm these contentions in conjunction with a robust strictly forensic imputational traditional Protestant understanding of the doctrine of justification by faith alone

The Oxford Edition of the Sermons of John Donne John Donne, 2013 Roman Life and Manners Under the Early Empire, 4 Ludwig Friedländer, 1913 Baptist Commonwealth, 1902 Karl Barth's Doctrine of Sanctification Michael Bartholomaeus, 2021-09-28 This book explores Karl Barth's doctrine of sanctification as set out in The Sanctification of Man 66 of the Church Dogmatics In his analysis Michael Bartholomaeus reflects on the role Barth's various engagements with Scripture play in the flow of his theological argument as well as the significance of his interaction with other voices from the tradition He then examines select aspects of Barth's theology of sanctification in greater depth including how Barth's use of Scripture in 66 can be understood as the exegetical background to his dogmatic exposition the similarities and differences between Barth and Calvin on the question of sanctification and how seriously and biblically Barth speaks of visibility and growth in the Christian life The Publishers Weekly, 1889 Lutherans and Catholics in Dialogue IV, 1970 Lumley's bibliographical advertiser, 1839 Church Dogmatics Karl Barth, 2004-03-08 Full index to the Church Dogmatics series and Aids to the Preacher being exegetical selections from the Church Dogmatics to illuminate the Christian year Montaigne and Shakespeare Suzanne Ellrodt, 2024-06-04 This book is not merely a study of Shakespeare's debt to Montaigne It traces the evolution of self consciousness in literary philosophical and religious writings from antiquity to the Renaissance and demonstrates that its early modern forms first appeared in the Essays and in Shakespearean drama It shows however that contrary to some postmodern assumptions the early calling in question of the self did not lead to a negation of identity Montaigne acknowledged the fairly stable nature of his personality and Shakespeare as Dryden noted maintained the constant conformity of each character to itself from its very first setting out in the Play quite to the End A similar evolution is traced in the progress from an objective to a subjective apprehension of time from Greek philosophy to early modern authors A final chapter shows that the influence of scepticism on Montaigne and Shakespeare was counterbalanced by their reliance on permanent humanistic values Bibliotheca Lindesiana ...
