

AP Human Geography
Unit 1: Geography (Its Nature and Perspectives)
Vocabulary and Concepts
Chapter 1 in textbook (pages 1-33) and Appendix A (A1-9)

1. human geography (8): focuses on how people make places, how we organize space and society, how we interact with each other in places and across space, and how we make sense of others and ourselves in our locality, region, and world.
2. globalization (8): a set of processes that are increasing interactions, deepening relationships, and heightening interdependence without regard to country borders.
3. spatial perspective (11): observing variations in geographic phenomena across space; used to study a multitude of phenomena ranging from political elections and urban shantytowns to gay neighborhoods and folk music.
4. location (11): the position of people and things on Earth
  - a. location theory (11): predicts the why and where of people and things
  - b. absolute location (14): uses latitude and longitude
  - c. relative location (15): describes a place in relation to other humans or physical features; constantly changing
  - d. site: initial, physical characteristics of a place
  - e. situation: location of a place in relation to surrounding characteristics
5. human-environment interactions (11): relationship between humans and the physical world and the results of those relationships
6. place (11): the unique human and physical characteristics associated with a place
  - a. sense of place (11): we infuse what a place means to us by our own experiences
  - b. perception of place (11): books/movies/stereotypes give us ideas about a place even if we have never been there (i.e. images of the Swiss Alps)
7. movement (11): the mobility of goods, people, and ideas; spatial interaction is determined by distances among places, their accessibility and connectivity
  - a. complementary: exchanging goods between regions that satisfy each other's demands
  - b. intervening opportunity: the presence of a nearer community that greatly diminishes the attractiveness of sites farther away (instead of visiting China, visit Chinatown in NY)
8. landscape (11): the material character of a place, the complex of natural features, human structures, and other tangible objects that give a particular place form
  - a. cultural landscape (12): visible imprint of human activity on the landscape identified by Carl Sauer
  - b. sequent occupancy (12): the successive occupiers of a landscape that bring their own technological and cultural traditions; proposed by Oberon Whittlesey (new inhabitants to a neighbor land)
9. maps:
  - a. distortion: fundamental problem with maps.
    - i. equal-area projection maps: attempt to maintain the relative spatial science and the areas on the map; may distort the actual shape of polygons
    - ii. conformal maps: attempt to maintain the shape of polygons on a map; may distort the relative area from one part of the map to another
  - b. scale (G/A-1): the ratio between an actual distance and distance shown on a map
  - c. cylindrical projection maps: are true in direction and good for navigation but exaggerates the size and shape of higher-altitude areas and areas along the equator are true
  - d. planar projection maps: examine the Earth in one direction such as using a pole or polar region so that you see the parallel as circles; distortion increases as you move away from the center point of projection
  - e. conic projection maps: puts a cone over the Earth to keep distance in
  - f. oval projection maps: uses a combination of cylindrical and conic projections such as the Mollweide projection. It is good for showing data distribution; all parallels are true, but the greatest distortion is at the poles.
  - g. reference maps (14): show locations; uses latitude and longitude (i.e. GPS)
  - h. thematic maps (14): tell stories (often use colors, distortions, and sizes to tell stories)
    - i. cartograms: chart and assign data by size so they distort on a map

Study Guide for Human Mosaic Terry G. Jordan-Bychkov, Mona Domosh, Roderick P. Neumann, Patricia L. Price, 2009-03-06. Carrying forward the legacy of original author Terry Jordan Bychkov, Mona Domosh, and new coauthors Roderick Neumann and Patricia Price offer this thoroughly updated new edition of the acclaimed introduction to the cultural geography of the world today. The result is a text that maintains its original distinctive style while addressing contemporary issues and situations that students care about most importantly the continuing phenomenon of globalization. The Thematic Approach of The Human Mosaic. The Human Mosaic introduces five themes in the opening chapter: culture, region, cultural diffusion, cultural ecology, cultural interaction, and cultural landscape; then uses those themes as a framework for the topical chapters that follow. Each theme is applied to a variety of geographical topics: demography, agriculture, the city, religion, language, ethnicity, politics, industry, folk, and popular culture. Through this organization, students are able to relate to the most important aspects of cultural geography at every point in the text.

English for geographers Carmen Isabel Luján García, 2013-06-19. English for Geographers is a textbook intended to be used not only by students of the university degree of Geography but also by anybody interested in the field of geography. It is divided into seven different units, each of them dealing with a specific topic: introduction to geography, human geography, environmental geography, tourist geography, Internet for geographers, cartography, and climatology. Each of the units offers the learners a variety of activities to improve their skills, mostly reading and writing in English as well as the capacity to increase their vocabulary related to this field. Following the European philosophy that promotes the use of new technologies throughout the teaching learning process, students are proposed a series of activities such as an online glossary which allows students to build up their own classroom dictionary and a class forum to exchange their knowledge opinions and so on Eventually at the end of each unit learners are asked to fill out a conscious learning grid chart in order to make them aware of their learning process as encouraged by EHEA European Higher Education Area After fulfilling this course students are expected to reach level B1 according to Common European framework of reference for languages Geography of Human Societies Mr. Rohit Manglik,2024-03-02 EduGorilla Publication is a trusted name in the education sector committed to empowering learners with high quality study materials and resources Specializing in competitive exams and academic support EduGorilla provides comprehensive and well structured content tailored to meet the needs of students across various streams and levels Study Guide and Student Resources to Accompany
