Dark Humour and Social Satire in the Modern British Novel

L. Colletta, 2003-09-30 Colletta uses psychoanalytic theories of joke work and gallows humour to argue that dark humour is an important defining characteristic of Modernism She brings together the usual suspects alongside more often overlooked writers from the period and asks probing questions about the relationship between a dark humour that revels in the non rational the unstable and the fragmented and resists easy definition and political usefulness and the historical and social circumstances of the period Colletta makes a compelling argument that probing deeply into the nature of humour or satire that define these social comedies brings to light a more complex and more accurate understanding of the social changes and historical circumstances that define the modern era

Transfiction Klaus Kaindl, Karlheinz Spitzl, 2014-01-28 This volume on Transfiction understood as an aestheticized imagination of translatorial action recognizes the power of fiction as a vital and pulsating academic resource and in doing so helps expand the breadth and depth of TS The book covers a selection of peer reviewed papers from the 1st International Conference on Fictional Translators and Interpreters in Literature and Film held at the University of Vienna Austria in 2011 and links literary and cinematic works of translation fiction to state of the art translation theory and practice It presents not just a mixed bag of cutting edge views and perspectives but great care has been taken to turn it into a well rounded transficcionario with a fluid dialogue among its 22 chapters Its investigation of translatorial action in the mirror of fiction i e beyond the cognitive barrier of fact and its multiple transdisciplinary trajectories make for thought provoking readings in TS comparative literature as well as foreign language and literature courses

The Critic ,1890      The Critic Jeannette Leonard Gilder,Joseph Benson Gilder,1904      Theaters of Translation

Andrew S. Keener,2025 In Theaters of Translation Cosmopolitan Vernaculars in Shakespeare s England Andrew S Keener argues that plays by Thomas Kyd Mary Sidney Herbert Ben Jonson and others were shaped by and contributed to a multilingual Europe full of dictionaries grammars and language learning dialogues Bringing together critical discussions and methodologies in transnational literary studies book history and the history of theater and performance Keener proposes a fresh multilingual approach to English Renaissance drama in a way that also liberates the histories of early modern languages and literatures from their national silos Rather than accepting Shakespeare as England s national playwright and instead of inscribing the period s theater and drama within England s political geographic and linguistic limits Theaters of Translation demonstrates the intercourse between England s drama and the great variety of multilingual dictionaries dialogues grammars and language manuals circulating throughout Europe Covering the period 1570 1640 when England s drama and crucially the English language itself was a proving ground for linguistic mixture Keener emphasizes the term cosmopolitan vernaculars which refers to non classical languages that modeled transnational forms of belonging for playgoers readers and authors across early modern Europe in doing so he challenges scholarship that continues to figure Renaissance England as a site of national and linguistic cohesion The critical genealogy of the term cosmopolitan vernaculars is itself rooted in studies of premodern Sanskrit and in postcolonial theory addressing the British Empire so by acknowledging the complexities associated with the terms cosmopolitanism and vernacularity Keener offers a conceptual and historical bridge between the medieval period and the imperial era making room for linguistic considerations of cosmopolitanism in England among French Italian Spanish and other European languages in relation to the English theater Linking recent contributions to cosmopolitan theory with transnational studies of early modern literature and culture particularly studies examining the dynamics of multiple languages translation and polyglot manuals and dictionaries in Europe Theaters of Translation highlights both the ways in which cosmopolitanism manifests through vernacular languages in print and performance and the ways languages themselves can exhibit cosmopolitanism for those who encounter them on the page or on the stage With this evidence Keener analyzes the workings of cosmopolitan vernaculars in early modern England and in ways that open up new transnational interpretations of plays Theaters of Translation also seeks to make much more out of details known to scholars already such as the fact that Ben Jonson owned and annotated a copy of Pietro Aretino s scandalous Italian dialogues or that Shakespeare s First Folio was advertised for sale in Germany before its London publication but which have been overlooked or obscured because they do not always agree with the prevailing nationally focused approaches to early modern drama in England      Theories of Vision from Al-Kindi to Kepler David C. Lindberg,1976 Kepler s successful solution to the problem of vision early in the seventeenth century was a theoretical triumph as significant as many of the more celebrated developments of the scientific revolution Yet the full import of Kepler's arguments can be grasped only when they are viewed against the background of ancient medieval and Renaissance visual theory David C Lindberg provides this background and in doing so he fills the gap in historical scholarship and constructs a model for tracing the development of scientific ideas David C Lindberg is professor and chairman of the department of the history of science at the University of Wisconsin Madison

Subversive Intent Susan Rubin Suleiman, 1990 With this important new book Susan Suleiman lays the foundation for a postmodern feminist poetics and theory of the avant garde She shows how the figure of Woman as fantasy myth or metaphor has functioned in the work of male avant garde writers and artists of this century Focusing also on women's avant garde artistic practices Suleiman demonstrates how to read difficult modern works in a way that reveals their political as well as their aesthetic impact Suleiman directly addresses the subversive intent of avant garde movements from Surrealism to postmodernism Through her detailed readings of provocatively transgressive works by Andr Breton Georges Bataille Roland Barthes Alain Robbe Grillet Marcel Duchamp Max Ernst and others Suleiman demonstrates the central role of the female body in the male erotic imagination and illuminates the extent to which masculinist assumptions have influenced modern art and theory By examining the work of contemporary women avantgarde artists and theorists including Helene Cixous Marguerite Duras Monique Wittig Luce Irigaray Angela Carter Jeanette Winterson Leonora Carrington Barbara Kruger Jenny Holzer and Cindy Sherman Suleiman shows the political power of feminist critiques of patriarchal ideology and especially emphasizes the power of feminist humor and parody Central to Suleiman's revisionary theory of the avant garde is the figure of the playful laughing mother True to the radically irreverent spirit of the historical avant gardes and their postmodernist successors Suleiman's laughing mother embodies the need for a link between symbolic innovation and political and social change

Roger Sandall's Films and Contemporary Anthropology Lorraine Mortimer, 2019-09-12 A look at a prize winning documentarian whose work with aboriginal Australians and others united the fields of film and anthropology in the 1960s and 70s In Roger Sandall's Films and Contemporary Anthropology Lorraine Mortimer argues that while social anthropology and documentary film share historic roots and goals particularly on the continent of Australia their trajectories have tended to remain separate This book reunites film and anthropology through the works of Roger Sandall a New Zealand born filmmaker and Columbia University graduate who was part of the vibrant avant garde and social documentary film culture in New York in the 1960s Mentored by Margaret Mead in anthropology and Cecile Starr in fine arts Sandall was eventually hired as the one man film unit at the newly formed Australian Institute of Aboriginal Studies in 1965 In the 1970s he became a lecturer in anthropology at the University of Sydney Sandall won First Prize for Documentary at the Venice Film Festival in 1968 yet his films are scarcely known even in Australia now Mortimer demonstrates how Sandall's films continue to be relevant to contemporary discussions in the fields of anthropology and documentary studies She ties exploration of the making and restriction of Sandall's aboriginal films and his nonrestricted films made in Mexico Australia and India to the radical history of anthropology and the resurgence today of an expanded existential phenomenological anthropology that encompasses the vital connections between humans animals things and our environment     Humour in Self-Translation Margherita Dore,2022-10-15 This book explores an important aspect of human existence humor in self translation a virtually unexplored area of research in Humour Studies and Translation Studies Of the select group of international scholars contributing to this volume some examine literary texts from different perspectives sociological philosophical or post colonial while others explore texts in more extraneous fields such as standup comedy or language learning This book sheds light on how humour in self translation induces thoughts on social issues challenges stereotypes contributes to recast individuals in novel forms of identity and facilitates reflections on our own sense of humour This accessible and engaging volume is of interest to advanced students of Humour Studies and Translation Studies     Taking Up Serpents David L.
