Primary and Secondary Sources

Historians use primary and secondary sources to learn more about events in history. A primary source is a record of events as they are first described and are witnessed by the people who were involved in the event. Some examples of primary sources are diary entries, photographs, interviews, and original artwork.

Secondary sources are records of events that are written after the event takes place. They are created by someone who was not at the event. Some examples of secondary sources are textbooks, websites, books, and articles. Both primary and secondary sources can help us learn about the past. It is important to remember that these historical documents are from one perspective. When studying the past, it is helpful to get more than one perspective.
