Human

Geography John R. Short, 2018 Ethnic Landscapes of America John A. Cross, 2017-06-19 This volume provides a comprehensive catalog of how various ethnic groups in the United States of America have differently shaped their cultural landscape. Author John Cross links an overview of the spatial distributions of many of the ethnic populations of the United States with highly detailed discussions of specific local cultural landscapes associated with various ethnic groups. This book provides coverage of several ethnic groups that were omitted from previous literature including Italian Americans, Chinese Americans, Japanese Americans, and Arab Americans, plus several smaller European ethnic populations. The book is organized to provide an overview of each of the substantive ethnic landscapes in the United States. Between its introduction and conclusion, which looks towards the future, the chapters on the various ethnic landscapes are arranged roughly in chronological order such that the timing of the earliest significant surviving landscape contribution determines the order the groups will be viewed. Within each chapter, the contemporary and historical spatial distribution of the ethnic groups are described, the historical geography of the group's settlement is reviewed, and the salient aspects of material culture that characterize or distinguish the group's ethnic landscape are discussed. Ethnic Landscapes of America is designed for use in the classroom as a textbook or as a reader in a North American regional course or a cultural geography course. This volume also can function as a detailed summary reference that should be of interest to geographers, historians, ethnic scholars, other social scientists, and the educated public who wish to understand the visible elements of material culture that various ethnic populations have created on the landscape.

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2004 Academic Writing for Geographers James A. Tyner, 2023-08-21 There are many how-to books on writing for academics; none of these, however, relate specifically to the discipline of geography. In this book, the author identifies the principle modes of academic writing that graduate students and early career faculty will encounter, specifically focusing on those forms expected of geographers: that is, those modes that are reviewed by academic peers. This book is readily accessible to senior undergraduate and graduate students and early career faculty who may feel intimidated by the process of writing. This volume is not strictly a how-to or step-by-step manual for writing an article or book; rather, through the use of real concrete examples from published and unpublished works, the author demystifies the process of different types of scholarly pieces geographers have to write with the specific needs and challenges of the discipline in mind. Although chapters are thematic based (e.g., stand-alone chapters on book reviews, articles, and books), the manuscript is structured around the concept of story telling, for it is the author's contention that all writing, whether a scientific study or more humanist essay, is a form of story telling.

Non-representational Theory Paul Simpson, 2020-11-22 Non-representational Theory explores a range of ideas which have recently engaged geographers and have led to the development of an alternative approach to the conception, practice, and production of geographic knowledge. Non-representational Theory refers to a key body of work that has emerged in geography over the past two and a half decades that emphasizes the importance of practice, embodiment, materiality, and process to the ongoing formation of social life This title offers the first sole authored accessible introduction to this work and its impact on geography Without being prescriptive the text provides a general explanation of what Non representational Theory is This includes discussion of the disciplinary context it emerged from the key ideas and themes that characterise work associated with Non representational Theory and the theoretical points of reference that inspires it The book then explores a series of conjunctions of Non representational Theory and taking an area of geographic enquiry and exploring the impact Non representational Theory has had on how it is researched and understood This includes the relationships between Non representational Theory and Practice Affect Materiality Landscape Performance and Methods Critiques of Non representational Theory are also broached including reflections on issues on identity power and difference The text draws together the work of a range of established and emerging scholars working on the development of non representational theories allowing scholars from geography and other disciplines to access and assess the animating potential of such work This volume is essential reading for undergraduates and post graduate students interested in the social cultural and political geographies of everyday living

Creative Methods for Human Geographers Nadia von Benzon, Mark Holton, Catherine Wilkinson, Samantha Wilkinson, 2021-01-13 Introducing a broad range of innovative and creative qualitative methods this accessible book shows you how to use them in research project while providing straightforward advice on how to approach every step of the process from planning and organisation to writing up and disseminating research It offers Demonstration of creative methods using both primary or secondary data Practical guidance on overcoming common hurdles such as getting ethical clearance and conducting a risk assessment Encouragement to reflect critically on the processes involved in research The authors provide a complete toolkit for conducting research in geography while ensuring the most cutting edge methods are unintimidating to the reader

Human Geography Mark Boyle, 2021-04-12 Revised Extended and Extensively Updated Text Uses Historical Geographical and Thematic Approach to Provide Undergraduates with a Firm Foundation in Human

Geography Drawing on nearly three decades of instructional experience and a wealth of testing pedagogical innovations with students Mark Boyle has revised and expanded this authoritative and comprehensive introduction to Human Geography As with the First Edition Boyle follows the premise that history makes geography whilst geography makes history and that the key to studying the principal demographic social political economic cultural and environmental processes in any region in the world today is to look at how that region has been impacted by and in turn has impacted the story of the rise reign and decline of the West Moreover he argues that Human Geography itself is best understood as both an intellectual endeavour and a historical political and institutional project Informed by recent developments in post colonial scholarship the book covers key concepts seminal thinkers and influential texts in the field Although designed for the beginner student Boyle does not shy away from ideas and debates often avoided in introductory texts clearly communicating theory without condescension In addition he places human geography in its larger academic context discussing the influences on the field from related subjects Notable features in the Second Edition include Extensive revision and updating of coverage of key ideas developments debates and case studies New chapter on uneven geographical development at different scales and development theory and practice Dedicated coverage of Covid 19s geographies New learning resources figures tables plates maps Deep Dive boxes etc throughout the text plus learning objectives essay questions checklists summarizing key ideas and guidance for further reading Updated and expanded companion website with MP4 and MP3 chapter by chapter lectures and PowerPoint slides for each chapter new multiple choice exam paper and additional essay style exam questions and a wide range of student tutorial exercises Human Geography An Essential Introduction Second Edition is an excellent foundational text for undergraduate courses in human geography globalization Western civilization historiographies of intellectual thought the grand public problems confronting humanity in the twenty first century and other wider social science courses

Human Geography John Rennie Short, Lisa Benton-Short, 2024-01-19 The aim of this book is to introduce students to a wide range of important and exciting work in human geography The primary audience is students in colleges and universities We decided to write this book because many of the standard texts are too big and increasingly too expensive to provide the accessible and affordable base most of us need for our human geography courses The overly large and expensive books available now have grown into to use Henry James s description of many nineteenth century novels loose and baggy monsters There is room for a more interesting and subtle book than the standard texts This briefer and more accessible alternative is written in a more familiar style that can be augmented by other resources We can use as metaphor the attempts on the big Himalayan peaks In the 1970s the attempts were increasingly organized as large teams with many climbers and elaborate systems of camps and base camps Then in the late 1970s a number of climbers dispensed with the large teams and sought to climb alone or with one other climber Less burdened by organizational weight they were much more successful in reaching the summits in quick direct assaults This book adapts a similar ethic of light and fast that affords more flexibility to instructors than a traditional textbook Not an exact metaphor to be sure but close enough to give you a sense of the book s character and mission Science Books & Films ,1981 The Bulletin of the Society of University Cartographers Society of University Cartographers,1977 Secondary Education Journal ,1984 Teach Beyond Your Reach Robin Neidorf,2006 In addition to the rapidly expanding role of distance learning in higher education web based instruction is now being offered by many types of organizations to employees clients and other associates This book provides experienced and newbie distance educators with a curriculum focused approach to the design development and delivery of courses and training sessions Providing practices and examples and surveying the tools of the trade this guide covers key issues including instructional design course craft adult learning styles student teacher interaction and strategies for building a community of learners
