Urban Heat Stress and Mitigation Solutions Vincenzo Costanzo, Gianpiero Evola, Luigi Marletta, 2021-09-08 This book provides the reader with an understanding of the impact that different morphologies construction materials and green coverage solutions have on the urban microclimate thus affecting the comfort conditions of urban inhabitants and the energy needs of buildings in urban areas The book covers the latest approaches to energy and outdoor comfort measurement and modelling on an urban scale and describes possible measures and strategies to mitigate the effects of the mutual interaction between urban settlements and local microclimate Despite its relevance only limited literature is currently devoted to appraising from an engineering perspective the intertwining relationships between urban geometry and fabrics energy fluxes between buildings and their surroundings outdoor microclimate conditions and building energy demands in urban areas This book fills this gap by first discussing the physical processes that govern heat and mass transfer at an urban scale while emphasizing the role played by different spatial arrangements manmade materials and green infrastructures on the outdoor microclimate The first chapters also address the implications of these factors on the outdoor comfort conditions experienced by pedestrians and on the buildings energy demand for space heating and cooling Then based upon cutting edge experimental activities and simulation work this book demonstrates current and forthcoming adaptation and mitigation strategies to improve the urban microclimate and its impact on the built environment such as cool materials thermochromic and retroreflective finishing materials and green infrastructures applied either at a building scale or at the urban scale The effect of these solutions is demonstrated for different cities worldwide under a range of climate conditions Finally the book opens a wider perspective by introducing the basic elements that allow fuel poverty raw materials consumption and the principles of circular economy in the definition of a resilient urban settlement el-aziz Khairy Abd el-aal, Abdullah Al-Enezi, Qusaie E. Karam, 2024-12-03 This book discusses the environmental hazards in the Gulf countries GCC The publication of this book is of great importance to all those interested and knowledgeable in the field Climate change leads to the occurrence of major environmental hazards that must be reduced by estimating the extent of climate change and developing appropriate solutions to mitigate those effects Climate changes are produced indirectly as a result of human activities with uncalculated consequences The process of climate change is always accompanied by catastrophic environmental problems such as global warming high temperatures storms hurricanes floods desertification processes air pollution and the extinction of many types and forms of animals and plants The Gulf countries are located in the eastern part of the Arabian Peninsula where the crude oil is extracted in several fields The states suffer from many environmental problems as a result of its geographical location global climate change and also from oil extraction operations

The problems include high temperatures induced earthquakes and pollution in the soil and marine coast as well as desertification processes sand dunes movement and other environmental problems Earthquakes are also recorded from and near the oil fields indicating the link between the oil extraction process and the occurrence of earthquakes Indeed the environmental studies published in the Gulf state are very few and do not meet the need of the scientific community in region which need more important environmental publications that help in the great and rapid urban developments in the area
