,1971 Maria Irene Fornes Scott T. Cummings,2013 Maria Irene Fornes provides an enlightening introduction to a pivotal figure in both Hispanic American and experimental theater From her theatrical origins in 1960s Cuba to her precedent plays for the US stage this book presents an important guide of work of this politically charged playwright Elements of Folk Music Festival Production Pam Mansfield, E. Arthur Prieve, 1985 Educational Programs that Work, 1994

Festiva 1994, 1994 Networks of Knowledge Janice Gross Stein, Joy Fitzgibbon, Richard Stren, 2001-01-01 Examines the knowledge network whose primary mandate is to create and disseminate knowledge based on multidisciplinary research that is informed by problem solving as well as theoretical agendas The Puppetry Journal, 1961 Color in the Classroom Zoe Burkholder, 2011-10-05 Between the turn of the twentieth century and the Brown v Board of Education decision in 1954 the way that American schools taught about race changed dramatically This transformation was engineered by the nation's most prominent anthropologists including Franz Boas Ruth Benedict and Margaret Mead during World War II Inspired by scientific racism in Nazi Germany these activist scholars decided that the best way to fight racial prejudice was to teach what they saw as the truth about race in the institution that had the power to do the most good American schools Anthropologists created lesson plans lectures courses and pamphlets designed to revise what they called the race concept in American education They believed that if teachers presented race in scientific and egalitarian terms conveying human diversity as learned habits of culture rather than innate characteristics American citizens would become less racist Although nearly forgotten today this educational reform movement represents an important component of early civil rights activism that emerged alongside the domestic and global tensions of wartime Drawing on hundreds of first hand accounts written by teachers nationwide Zo Burkholder traces the influence of this anthropological activism on the way that teachers understood spoke and taught about race She explains how and why teachers readily understood certain theoretical concepts such as the division of race into three main categories while they struggled to make sense of more complex models of cultural diversity and structural inequality As they translated theories into practice teachers crafted an educational discourse on race that differed significantly from the definition of race produced by scientists at mid century Schoolteachers and their approach to race were put into the spotlight with the Brown v Board of Education case but the belief that racially integrated schools would eradicate racism in the next generation and eliminate the need for discussion of racial inequality long predated this Discussions of race in the classroom were silenced during the early Cold War until a new generation of antiracist multicultural educators emerged in the 1970s Guide to Resource Organizations for Minority Language Groups, 1981

Don't Smoke in Bed Aurin Squire, 2016-03-08 You know I saw an article in Time Magazine a few years ago that stated Asian Men are In and it had a picture of a white woman riding the back of an Asian man No Kidding Like he was some kind of human rickshaw Maybe you should take a picture of Sheryl riding me with a blunt in her mouth an a dreadlock wig Following the success of last year's production of Obama ology multi award winning African American playwright Aurin Squire returns to the Finborough Theatre with another world premiere Don t Smoke in Bed Jamaican American Richard and White American Sheryl are starting a family together When they agree to a series of bedroom interviews they believe that their interracial relationship is the focus of the article As both play up to what they believe are the expectations of the interviewer they embark on a journey that challenges their relationship to the core as the barriers between psychological and social sexual and political public and private melt and dissolve Don t Smoke in Bed is a stunning exploration of social and racial perception in contemporary America

Resources in education ,1984-08 The Cultural Politics of Jazz Collectives Nicholas Gebhardt,Tony Whyton,2015-03-05 The Cultural Politics of Jazz Collectives This Is Our Music documents the emergence of collective movements in jazz and improvised music Jazz history is most often portrayed as a site for individual expression and revolves around the celebration of iconic figures while the networks and collaborations that enable the music to maintain and sustain its cultural status are surprisingly under investigated This collection explores the history of musician led collectives and the ways in which they offer a powerful counter model for rethinking jazz practices in the post war period It includes studies of groups including the New York Musicians Organization Sweden s Ett minne f r livet Wonderbrass from South Wales the contemporary Dutch jazz hip hop scene and Austria s JazzWerkstatt With an international list of contributors and examples from Europe and the United States these twelve essays and case studies examine issues of shared aesthetic vision socioeconomic and political factors local education and cultural values among improvising musicians
