Environmental Risk Mitigation Barbara Weiss, Michio Obi, 2016-10-18 This book presents an extensive review of the context and an analysis of the market for clean energy technologies with batteries as the primary case study The focus of this book is on clean energy technology and in particular on renewable energy and portable mobile and stationary battery and energy supply The authors examine how effectively countries with large and advanced economies are building and coaxing the markets needed to effectively mitigate environmental risk The analysis takes a country level perspective of some of the largest and most technologically advanced economies in the world including China France Germany Japan Korea the United Kingdom and the United States The authors explore the measures being taken to foster markets that effectively reduce environmental risk increase its resilience and even its recovery In the concluding chapter the authors suggest that while the market for environmental risk mitigation remains nascent the possibility for its rapid development is high A number of market coaxing mechanisms to promote its more rapid development are proposed The book will be of interest to researchers policy makers business strategists and academics in the fields of political science and business management

Low-Carbon Birding Javier Caletrío, 2022-09-06 Birdwatching in Britain has grown increasingly dependent on burning fossil fuels Regularly driving long distances to birding hotspots and frequent flying to see exotic species are seen as perfectly normal In the face of the climate crisis however a growing number of birders are reassessing the way they enjoy and study birds In this timely book 30 contributors from young birdwatchers to professional ornithologists explain why and how they are shifting to climate friendlier approaches Low carbon birding they argue is a legitimate and valuable way of enjoying birds Furthermore in itself

this can bring many joys some of them unexpected From first encounters with hawfinches to focusing in on birdsong from the Kalahari to the Hebrides the stories told here are not about heroic efforts to save the planet They are simply accounts of everyday humanity in unprecedented times ordinary people with doubts and concerns about how to live a decent life and act responsibly in a rapidly warming world The authenticity of their voices is a testament to the moment of awakening to the climate crisis in British ornithology Above all Low Carbon Birding is an urgent call for birders to leave a better legacy in the skies and across the living world Vertical File Service Catalog ,1994
