Web Services Gustavo Alonso, Fabio Casati, Harumi Kuno, Vijay Machiraju, 2003-09-04 Like many other incipient technologies Web services are still surrounded by a substantial level of noise This noise results from the always dangerous combination of wishful thinking on the part of research and industry and of a lack of clear understanding of how Web services came to be On the one hand multiple contradictory interpretations are created by the many attempts to realign existing technology and strategies with Web services On the other hand the emphasis on what could be done with Web services in the future often makes us lose track of what can be really done with Web services today and in the short term These factors make it extremely difficult to get a coherent picture of what Web services are what they contribute and where they will be applied Alonso and his co authors deliberately take a step back Based on their academic and industrial experience with middleware and enterprise application integration systems they describe the fundamental concepts behind the notion of Web services and present them as the natural evolution of conventional middleware necessary to meet the challenges of the Web and of B2B application integration Rather than providing a reference guide or a how to write your first Web service kind of book they discuss the main objectives of Web services the challenges that must be faced to achieve them and the opportunities that this novel technology provides Established as well as recently proposed standards and techniques e g WSDL UDDI SOAP WS Coordination WS Transactions and BPEL are then examined in the context of this discussion in order to emphasize their scope benefits and shortcomings Thus the book is ideally suited both for professionals considering the development of application integration solutions and for research and students interesting in understanding and contributing to the evolution of enterprise application technologies

Financial Review, 1902 Implementation of a Performance Attribution System in a Funds Management Company Marc Vogel, 2005-03-31 Inhaltsangabe Introduction Within this thesis fundamentals of performance attribution are treated as well as the practical implementation of such a system However for many people who already asked to receive a copy of this work the most important part will be the analysis of the partly internet based questionnaire revolving around performance attribution The theoretical part contains the fundamentals of portfolio theory and the constructive CAPM followed by basics of portfolio management Next topics are the estimation of risk and performance for investment portfolios The finishing touch is done by introduction of performance attribution theories handling both equity and bond attribution Within the practical part a short analysis of the affected asset management company is performed accompanied by research of performance presentation A questionnaire has been sent to 80 non banks of the German HDAX index as well as to all members of the BVI Furthermore an internet based version of the questionnaire has been introduced to a large number of institutional clients The analysis of this questionnaire is one of the topics of this work For the affected company the results from the questionnaire are used to identify the competitors possibilities and the clients needs resulting in fundamental ideas for the catalogue of requirements The analysis of the investment process and based on this the choice and the implementation of a performance attribution system are the last parts of this work Still it has to be mentioned that recommendations for organizational changes are part of implementation There are three reasons why this thesis has been prepared The first one is quite trivial As performance attribution is more and more present in the market deeper knowledge of it shall be gained for the affected company Primarily the department for quantitative research and information technology has to come up with this knowledge to act as a multiplier and to ascertain technological and or organizational requirements for its implementation Another scope of this work is to determine the actual status of performance attribution performed by competitors To get this information competition is referred to and likewise clients of competitors are interviewed To benefit from this thesis not only the theoretical background will be looked upon but there will be approaches to completely integrate performance attribution Proposed usage will
