Green, 2016-01-22 Laplace 1849 1827 was the famous French astronomer and mathematician who outspokenly proposed that every occurrence is in every respect determined by laws of nature that all that exists is determinate This book aims to show how the mechanistic framework of ideas associated with modern science distorts our understanding not only of the human mind but of the fundamental attributes of life itself Before we can rid ourselves of this distorting influence our very notion of causality needs to be clarified and changed The book sets out a proposal of what is required The book's many arguments have profound implications not only for philosophy but for neuropsychology biology and biophysics Citizenship and

Brian Clegg, 2019-02-07 Asked to name a great physicist most people would mention Newton or Einstein Feynman or Hawking But ask a physicist and there's no doubt that James Clerk Maxwell will be near the top of the list Maxwell an unassuming Victorian Scotsman explained how we perceive colour He uncovered the way gases behave And most significantly he transformed the way physics was undertaken in his explanation of the interaction of electricity and magnetism revealing the nature of light and laying the groundwork for everything from Einstein's special relativity to modern electronics Along the way he set up one of the most enduring challenges in physics one that has taxed the best minds ever since Maxwell's demon is a tiny but thoroughly disruptive thought experiment that suggests the second law of thermodynamics the law that governs the flow of time itself can be broken This is the story of a groundbreaking scientist a great contributor to our understanding of the way the world works and his duplicitous demon Chatterbox, 1902
