Test Anxiety Moshe Zeidner, 2005-12-27 Examination stress and test anxiety are pervasive problems in modern society As the information age continues to evolve test scores will become even more important than they are today in evaluating applicants for demanding jobs and candidates for admission into highly competitive educational programs Because test anxiety generally causes decrements in performance and undermines academic achievement the development of effective therapeutic interventions for reducing its adverse effects will continue to be an important priority for counselors psychologists and educators Alleviating test anxiety will also serve to counteract the diminished access to educational and occupational opportunities that is frequently experienced by test anxious individuals As its title promises this volume provides a state of the art evaluation of the nature antecedents correlates and consequences of examination stress and test anxiety Professor Zeidner's cogent and comprehensive analysis of the affective cognitive somatic and behavioral manifestations of test anxiety are grounded in the extensive knowledge he has gained from his own research on the assessment and treatment of test anxiety This work has also benefitted from the author's longstanding and productive collaboration with leading contributors to test anxiety theory and research and his active participation in national and international conferences devoted to understanding test anxiety including those convened by the Society for Test Anxiety Research STAR

Assessing Health-related Quality of Life of Children Pei Wang, Shunping Li, Jing Wu, Nan Luo, 2024-02-20 Assessing health related quality of life HRQOL of Children has been a popular topic in recent years worldwide However there are several issues gaps in this research area which need to be addressed For instance previous studies on HRQOL of Children populations have normally used HRQOL instruments designed for adults These measurements may not be suitable for children as they are in a series of cognitive developmental stages and have different perspectives towards the relative importance of HRQOL dimensions In order to tackle this issue and to accurately measure children's HRQOL a set of dedicated HRQOL instruments should be first developed and validated The validated instruments could then be applied to the population measuring their HRQOL In addition the HRQOL information collected could be translated into health utility score if it is measured by utility instruments e.g. EQ-5D Y for the population Moreover the relevant studies on these issues is still lacking especially in non western countries
