Young People, Violence and Strategic Interventions in

Sub-Saharan Africa Kammila Naidoo, Oluwafemi Adeagbo, Xiaoming Li, 2023-01-20 This edited volume offers a rich collection of up to date research and critical scholarship from various African institutions on incidents of youth violence intervention and prevention in sub Saharan Africa It integrates thinking evidence responses and debates relating to this topic laying the basis for fresh insights and innovative strategies The chapters capture a spectrum of pertinent issues such as economic hardship lockdowns sexual and reproductive health pregnancy online sexual harassment xenophobic violence and micro aggressions in school contexts and present guidelines on how countries might learn from successful interventions recently implemented They explore young people's access to familial and community resources state sponsored initiatives peer counselling youth friendly services and other relevant structures Thus among other things this volume stimulates further debate on what is driving violence in different African contexts specifically how intersectional identities create vulnerabilities to violence and influences ways of dealing with the issue This interdisciplinary and cross cutting volume serves as a vital resource for experts at universities in international organisations civil society groups and intergovernmental organisations who wish to both analyse and take action to address and prevent the type of violence that currently afflicts young people sub Saharan Africa today ICT Education Henri Emil Van Rensburg,Dirk Petrus Snyman,Lynette Drevin,Günther Richard Drevin,2024-01-02 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 52nd Annual Conference of the Southern African Computer Lecturers Association on ICT Education SACLA 2023 held in Gauteng South Africa during July 19 21 2023 The 12 full papers included in this book were carefully reviewed and selected from 42 submissions They were organized in topical sections as follows student centered teaching and learning AI and future movements programming and beyond the classroom African Economic Development Christopher Cramer,John Sender,Arkebe Oqubay,2020 This book challenges conventional wisdoms about economic performance and possible policies for economic development in African countries Its starting point is the striking variation in African economic performance Unevenness and inequalities form a central fact of African economic experiences The authors highlight not only differences between countries but also variations within countries differences often organized around distinctions of gender class and ethnic identity For example neo natal mortality and school dropout have been reduced particularly for some classes of women in some areas of Africa Horticultural and agribusiness exports have grown far more rapidly in some countries than in others These variations and many others point to opportunities for changing performance reducing inequalities learning from other policy experiences and escaping the ties of structure and the legacies of a colonial past The book rejects teleological illusions and Eurocentric prejudice but it does pay close attention to the results of policy in more industrialized parts of the world Seeing the contradictions of capitalism for what they are fundamental and enduring may help policy officials protect themselves against the misleading idea that development can be expected to be a smooth linear process or that it would be were certain impediments suddenly removed The authors criticize a wide range of orthodox and heterodox economists especially for their cavalier attitude to evidence Drawing on their own decades of research and policy experience they combine careful use of available evidence from a range of African countries with political economy insights mainly derived from Kalecki Kaldor and Hirschman to make the policy case for specific types of public sector investment Proceedings of the International Conference on Education Research Reza Hosseini, Reviews in Vaccination Programmes Chiara de Waure ,Maarten Jacobus Postma,2025-08-19 Infectious diseases continue to pose significant global health threats highlighting the crucial role of vaccination in safeguarding public health Vaccination has been one of the most successful public health interventions in history leading to the eradication or significant reduction of many life threatening diseases Vaccinations are provided within programmes that vary between and within countries and also in the light of the different organization of healthcare systems As new infectious agents emerge and existing ones evolve it becomes imperative to continually review monitor and update vaccination programmes to ensure their relevance and success In order to do so several aspects should be considered concerning not only vaccines properties but also the burden and relevance of diseases organizational aspects public response and sustainability This Research Topic aims to collect review articles on the latest developments in vaccination policies and strategies focusing on how they were informed developed implemented and monitored and on their contribution to population health and well being
