Clement, 2010-07-16 People who teach in higher education are subject matter specialists but they often have little preparation in how to teach This book presents the knowledge base of college teaching in a user friendly easy to read yet well researched format From sample syllabi to the creation of an effective grading scale this book covers critically important aspects of organizing and teaching your curriculum Suggestions for preparing for the first day of the semester will make all semesters run more smoothly Chapters about building positive student relationships student incivility and academic integrity provide insights about today's students their backgrounds and their expectations Using techniques presented in the book for instructional management instructors can have productive classes where students achieve success If you teach traditional or online courses in a community college private college or large public university this book needs to be on your reading list The topics strategies and methods presented will not only help you to improve your courses but will also help you to keep your job and obtain tenure Reading this book is the equivalent of taking a course in how to teach in higher education      Teaching in the Middle and Secondary Schools Joseph F. Callahan, Leonard H. Clark, Richard Dean Kellough, 1998 This book is designed to provide a practical criterion referenced performance based model for general secondary or middle school methods The text s unique modular format allows students to work through each module at their own pace building confidence as each skill is mastered Using current and practical methods of teaching this latest edition incorporates constructivist based theory social interactive learning strategies and inquiry learning which involve students in problem solving situations      Teaching Your First College Class Carolyn Lieberg, 2023-07-03 No other teaching experience will feel quite like the first time an instructor walks into a classroom to face a class of students This book is a wise and friendly guide for new faculty and graduate student instructors who are about to teach for the first time It provides an introduction to the theory of teaching describes proven strategies and activities for engaging students in their learning and offers advice on classroom management syllabus creation grading assessment and discipline issues among other topics It prepares readers for a confident start as teachers and gives them a firm foundation on which to develop their skills and personal classroom styles The author breaks teaching down into its component elements and tasks to enable graduate student instructors to identify their particular responsibilities and learn about what works and does not They will also benefit from reading the book as a whole as it sets their work in the context of course objectives and learning theory For new faculty this engaging book provides a solid basis from which to develop their skills and personal styles as teachers and offers guidance on documenting their classroom success for the purposes of promotion and tenure For graduate student instructors the book is a companion that will give them confidence and pleasure in teaching and stand them in good stead if they decide on a in any future career in academe      Secondary School Teaching Richard Dean Kellough, Noreen G. Kellough, 1999 Focusing specifically on teaching in grades 7 12 this comprehensive resource guide workbook involves readers interactively through discussions exercises vignettes and case studies with the why what how and how well of a performance based competency based criterion referenced approach to teaching Explores instructional planning strategy implementation discipline legal issues and both student and teacher evaluation Reflects the latest developments in cognitive learning theory the constructivist approach to learning social interactive learning the current school funding environment and the growing diversity of the student population Emphasizes an eclectic model of teaching which encourages readers to choose effective approaches from a variety of possible teaching models Connects strategies rather than teaching them as separate entities For prospective secondary school teachers grades 7 12      Teaching in the Middle and Secondary Schools Richard Dean Kellough, Jioanna Carjuzaa, 2009 This practical performance based methods text for middle and second school pre service teachers is organized around four developmental components Why gives the rationale to support the components that follow What what you will be teaching How how you will teach it How well how well you are teaching it Organized into four parts that are then split up into ten modules the text begins with a history of education going back to colonial times The modules then cover the many and varied aspects of teaching pre and early adolescents such as teaching students with exceptionalities classroom management diversity instructional planning using technology in the classroom assessing student achievement and self assessment and continued professional development The authors contend that the best teacher is one who has an eclectic style and can monitor their own progress and make changes and adapt their strategies if they are not succeeding The ninth edition has been carefully updated to reflect the diversity and current topics in the field today The book is a valuable resource for students today and as a reference for many years to come New To This Edition NEW Improved balance of content between middle and secondary schools this emphasizes that middle school is uniquely different from both high school and the traditional junior high school and that pre and early adolescence is different from late adolescence NEW Technology has been integrated throughout every module of the book New features including Teaching Scenarios Activities and Technology Rich features were added to all modules NEW Contributions from pre service and in service middle and secondary school teachers teacher educators and educational researchers have been added to strengthen the tie between theory and practice

Differentiating Assessment in Middle and High School English and Social Studies Sheryn Spencer-Waterman, 2013-09-27 This book by Sheryn Spencer Waterman follows the bestselling Handbook on Differentiated Instruction for Middle and High Schools With numerous examples and strategies it is an all inclusive manual on assessing student readiness interests learning and thinking styles It includes examples of Pre Formative and Summative assessments Informal and formal assessments Oral and written assessments Project and performance assessments Highly structured and enrichment assessments for struggling to gifted students Assessment tools and rubrics

Disability and World Language Learning Sally Scott, Wade Edwards, 2018-12-21 The release of a report by the Modern Language Association Foreign Languages and Higher Education New Structures for a Changed World focused renewed attention on college foreign language instruction at the introductory level Frequently the report finds these beginning courses are taught by part time and untenured instructors many of whom remain on the fringes of the department with little access to ongoing support pedagogical training or faculty development When students with sensory cognitive or physical disabilities are introduced to this environment the results can be frustrating for both the student who may benefit from specific instructional strategies or accommodations and the instructor who may be ill equipped to provide inclusive instruction Soon after the MLA report was published the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages issued Diversity and Inclusion in Language Programs a position statement highlighting the value of inclusive classrooms that support diverse perspectives and learning needs That statement specifies that all students regardless of background should have ample access to language instruction Meanwhile in the wake of these two publications the number of college students with disabilities continues to increase as has the number of world language courses taught by graduate teaching assistants and contingent faculty Disability and World Language Learning begins at the intersection of these two growing concerns for the diverse learner and for the world language instructor Devoted to practical classroom strategies based on Universal Design for Instruction it serves as a timely and valuable resource for all college instructors adjunct faculty long time instructors and graduate assistants alike confronting a changing and diversifying world language classroom MS Word 2002, Complete Stephen Haag,James T. Perry,2002 SERIES TAGLINE THE HOW and WHY PRACTICAL APPROACH TO LEARNING APPLICATIONS Moving Teacher Education into Urban Schools and Communities Jana Noel,2013-05-07 Winner of the 2013 American Educational Studies Association s Critics Choice Award When teacher education is located on a university campus set apart from urban schools and communities it is easy to overlook the realities and challenges communities face as they struggle toward social economic cultural and racial justice This book describes how teacher education can become a meaningful part of this work by re positioning programs directly into urban schools and communities Situating their work within the theoretical framework of prioritizing community strengths each set of authors provides a detailed and nuanced description of a teacher education program re positioned within an urban school or community Authors describe the process of developing such a relationship how the university school and community became integrated partners in the program and the impact on participants As university based teacher education has come under increased scrutiny for lack of real world relevance this book showcases programs that have successfully navigated the travails of shifting their base directly into urban schools and communities with evidence of positive outcomes for all involved
