

Enzymes and Cellular Regulation

(Illustrate the factors that regulate the activity of the enzyme catalase (catalase))

Effect

Enzymes are protein-based biological molecules that play a catalytic role in most life. They help various chemical reactions occur more easily, faster, and are responsible for various cell functions and the health of organisms. Enzymes function at low levels and are sensitive to many environmental factors such as high temperatures, which reduce temperatures. They may also have an active site that is not covered by a substrate, which will inhibit the reaction. The most common enzyme is catalase, which breaks down hydrogen peroxide into water and oxygen.
