new nation in Egypt By examining the notion of remaking urban spaces the study interprets the ambitions and powers of state policies for improving the spatial qualities of Cairo s old districts since the early 20th century These acts are situated in their spatial political and historical contexts of Cairo s heterogeneous old quarters and urban spaces particularly the remaking of one of the city s older quarts named Bulaq Abul Ela established during the Ottoman rule in the thirteenth century It therefore writes in a chronological sequence a narrative through time and space connecting various layers of historical and contemporary political phases for remaking Bulaq The endeavor is to explain this process from a spatial perspective in terms of the implications and consequences not only on places but also on the people s everyday practices By deeply investigating the problems and consequences the strengths and weaknesses and the state s reliability to achieve the remaking objectives the book reveals evidence that shifting forms of governance had anchored planning practices into a narrow path of creativity and responsive planning
