Genderscapes Revisioning Natural Resource Management:

Genderscapes Sumi Krishna, 2014 Even in a realm that would seem to be as far removed from issues of gender as natural resource management gender bias is pernicious and persistent especially in India Genderscapes looks at the reasons for this bias from a number of angles including the socialization of attitudes the shaping of community ideologies and the construction of disciplines and research methodologies Sumi Krishna puts forward the novel concept of genderscapes to reflect the totality of women's life worlds and she builds her use of the concept on a group of rich case studies including the caring practices of forest dwellers women's knowledge of biodiversity and their widespread responsibility for farming and food production Women's economic needs cannot be separated from their sociopolitical interests Krishna shows and only by looking at them as a whole can we solve the problem of discrimination

Sustaining Natural Resources in a Changing Environment Linda Hantrais, Ruth Kattumuri, Ashley Thomas Lenihan, 2020-06-09 Climate change and environmental degradation have intensified the pressures on crucial resources such as food and water security and air quality In this collection academic researchers and practitioners who have lived and worked in countries as geographically and culturally diverse as Brazil China India Ghana Palestine Uganda and Venezuela draw on their wide ranging international and inter sectoral experience to offer valuable comparative insights into the relationship between research and evidence based policy for sustaining natural resources Their contributions provide a novel mix of disciplinary perspectives ranging across geography ecology social policy the political economy philosophy international development engineering technology architecture and urban planning They examine the institutions involved in generating and mediating evidence about the sustainability of natural resources in a changing environment and the different methodologies employed in collecting and assessing evidence informing policy and contributing to governance The authors demonstrate not only that social science evidence on governance and policy implementation to sustain natural resources must complement natural science inputs but also that local communities must be an integral part of any programme development This book was originally published as a special issue of Contemporary Social Science

This book covers themes related to the geosphere biosphere sociosphere and ecosphere dealing with changing geographical environmental and socio economic realities to plan a sustainable future for the northeast region NER of India The NER consists of eight states Assam Arunachal Pradesh Tripura Nagaland Manipur Mizoram Meghalaya and Sikkim and they carry political economic and social importance The book integrates the past present and future of geospheric attributes incorporating progress towards the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs to meet the demands for improving human wellbeing under diverse and challenging socio economic political and environmental conditions The key SDGs as in food and agriculture health education water energy and other overarching goals of the region have yet to incorporate providing sustainable jobs and promoting equality and inclusive development although there have been a few studies in that regard The challenges to achieve SDGs in the NER are formidable compared to the rest of India The NER has put a great deal of effort into achieving the SDGs mainly in poverty SDG 1 good health SDG 3 education SDG 4 gender SDG 5 decent work SDG 8 and reduced inequalities SDG 10 similar to the rest of the country However the standard development indicators such as road length access to health care power consumption and other measures are far below the national average A multi pronged strategy has played a pivotal role in the region but development strategy to attain the SDGs 2030 must be more inclusive in empowering people with maximising self governance considering the resources needs and aspirations of the people This book evaluates the performance of the SDGs and fills in the gaps It includes case studies focusing on different SDGs using advanced cartographic statistical and GIS techniques and methods It also provides unique findings that serve as valuable resources for planners and policy makers so that a sustainable future in Northeast India can be achieved Routledge Readings on Colonial to Contemporary Northeastern India Sumi Krishna,2023-06-16 Routledge Readings on Northeastern India Colonial Encounters Customary Practices Gender Livelihoods presents some of the finest essays on a region that stretches across the Northeastern Himalaya eight Indian States and many tribal and non tribal peoples With a lucid new Introduction it covers a vast range of issues and offers a compelling guide to understanding the northeastern India from colonial and missionary encounter to contemporary security and developmental issues in South Asia The book covers several critical themes and unravels the complexities fraught by the unique biogeography and socio political history of the region The fifteen chapters in the volume divided into three sections examine gender community customary law and practices land agriculture livelihoods work health and education This multi disciplinary volume interweaves geography and history culture and politics the contested construction of identities communities and nationalities the political interplay of ethnicities and resource appropriation in a modernizing globalizing economy conflicts and violence in highly militarized spaces It includes engaged and insightful perspectives from major authors who have contributed to the academic and or policy discourse of the subject Routledge Readings on Northeastern India brings together a cluster of key readings to capture important research directions policy suggestions current trends and aspects of history and future trajectories in the humanities and social sciences It will serve as essential reading for students scholars policymakers practitioners and the general reader interested in a nuanced understanding of India s northeastern region and especially those in South Asian studies Northeast India studies area studies history politics and international relations labour studies conflict and peace studies gender studies sociology and social anthropology It will also appeal to those interested in public administration development studies environmental studies law and human rights regional literature cultural studies population studies geography and economics Women and Nature? Douglas Vakoch,Sam Mickey,2017-07-06 Women and Nature Beyond Dualism in Gender Body and Environment provides a historical context for understanding the contested relationships between women and nature and it articulates strategies for moving beyond the dualistic theories and practices that often frame those relationships In 1974 Fran oise d Eaubonne coined the term ecofeminism to raise awareness about interconnections between women s oppression and nature s domination in an attempt to liberate women and nature from subordination Since then ecofeminism has attracted scholars and activists from various disciplines and positions to assess the relationship between the cultural human and the natural non human through gender reconsiderations The contributors to this volume present critical and constructive perspectives on ecofeminism throughout its history from the beginnings of ecofeminism in the 1970s through to contemporary and emerging developments in the field drawing on animal studies postcolonialism film studies transgender studies and political ecology This interdisciplinary and international collection of essays demonstrates the ongoing relevance of ecofeminism as a way of understanding and responding to the complex interactions between genders bodies and the natural environment It will be of great interest to students and scholars of ecofeminism as well as those involved in environmental studies and gender studies more broadly

Women Water Professionals Sumi Krishna, Arpita De, 2014-03-11 Water management is not an engineering matter alone it involves ecological socio political administrative and legal concerns Gender is a key factor but has been neglected both conventionally and in recent water reform policies and structures Yet a cross section of South Asian women have challenged socio cultural norms and crossed personal and professional boundaries to make a profound impact on water and sanitation management Their inspiring stories have scarcely been documented This book is the first to profile women from Bangladesh India Nepal Pakistan and Sri Lanka women at the grassroots or with NGOs women activists journalists administrators scientists academics action researchers who have faced challenges related to water with courage and determination Complementing the 32 women s voices is data compiled from an analysis of the situation of women water professionals in the region Written in an engaging manner this book will be of interest both to the general reader and to academics and practitioners in water management and gender women s studies Published by Zubaan

Thinking Gender Shalini Suryanarayan, Shanthi G, K.G. Gayathridevi, 2020-01-01 Gender usually refers to the socially constructed characteristics of women and men and the set of norms roles and relationships of and between groups of women and men The conceptions of gender vary across cultures and are constantly evolving Feminism gender bias gender discrimination gender identity and gender justice etc are some of the oft debated conceptions in the discourse on gender A multi disciplinary work this book brings together scholarly contributions from academics and researchers at various stages of their careers This book is a festschrift in honour of Professor R Indira Organised along five main themes viz Gender and Cultural Space Gender and Political Space Gender and Domestic Space Gender Education and Work and Gender and Development there are a total of nineteen papers included in this volume Each paper encompasses useful information on the topic concerned mostly supported by the findings of empirical research by the author s This work is sure to broaden the understandings on gender among students and researchers across various academic disciplines besides policy planners and activists

Women's Livelihood Rights Sumi Krishna, 2007-09-10 This interdisciplinary book looks at women s natural resource based livelihoods in the wider context of development viewed through the lens of citizenship rights Unravelling the patriarchal social fabric and policy structures in India it argues that the concept of citizenship needs to be extended to include recognition of ways of life and livelihood so that women take their legitimate space as productive human beings entitled to dignity as a political right and not merely to protection and welfare The editor weaves together a historical perspective on varied dimensions of livelihood development and citizenship Drawing upon rich field based researches in 13 states across India the authors deal with complex and inter related themes the need to recognise women's right to resources and their livelihood and employment strategies the challenges of democratic governance and of restructuring institutional systems to make them responsive and the role of women's collective agency in development Reflecting upon and critically analysing context specific issues in several less studied locations the book shows that there is much to be learnt from empathetic interaction with the collective struggles of poor women and from action and dialogue on the ground Further it suggests that feminist politics has to network strategically with other struggles to counter the resistance of traditional and contemporary patriarchal structures and to work towards recasting citizenship for a gender just development that ensures women's livelihood rights With its fresh perspective and insights this book would be invaluable for research institutions NGOs donor agencies and individual practitioners and students working in the fields of gender and development natural resource management and livelihood policy planning and interventions Book jacket
