Hans-Jürgen Syberberg, the Film Director as Critical Thinker Xue Lan Rong, Jeremy Hilburn, 2016-12-27 Fourth wave immigration with its vast economic ethnic cultural linguistic and religious diversities have brought new dynamics into the existing social and demographic structures and added both opportunities and challenges to educational systems in North Carolina a Southern U S state with the fastest growing rate of foreign born population in the nation in 1990 2010 and unique geopolitical history This book brings together 17 scholars who have extensive experience working with immigrants in North Carolina and represent a wide range of educational expertise Together their studies illustrate the intersections between historical contexts geopolitical historical constraints structural factors power policies and laws institutions and organization cultural issues philosophies ideologies identities beliefs values and traditions and immigrant students characteristics on the development of educational practices policies reforms and resistance

Most importantly studying how North Carolina education systems and actors adapt to meet the challenges may offer valuable opportunities for researchers to understand the transformation of educational systems in other new gateway states

Collectively studies in this book deconstruct the framework of the traditional hierarchical assimilation and linguistic policies in recasting the concept of becoming Americans in the New South

The authors utilize frameworks that recognize the structural barriers that disadvantage immigrants in new gateway states but also position youth families and communities as possessing and utilizing valuable resources to promote educational access and achievement

In this sense this book contributes significantly to major contemporary empirical and theoretical debates relating to educating immigrant children

It is our hope that this critical dialogue will continue at a national platform to promote discussion of these timely issues

The Peter Fookes Engineering Geological Legacy in Geomodels, Geomaterials and Geomorphology J.S. Griffiths, D.P. Giles, J.A. Davis, J.J. Dunlop, 2025-11-04

This book is a celebration of the life work and legacy of Professor Peter G Fookes 1933-2020

As a professional engineering geologist he worked in over 100 countries produced some 200 publications and was instrumental in setting up MSc programmes at Imperial College and Queen Mary College London

From the Geological Society he was awarded the William Smith Medal 1985 and was the first recipient of the Glossop Medal 1996

Although a mainstream geologist his background in chemistry ensured he was at the forefront in concrete research and the use of geomaterials

Working with academic geomorphologists notably Denys Brunsden David Jones John Doornkamp and Sir Ron Cooke he led the development of engineering geomorphology as a genuine adjunct subject to engineering geology

In addition his Glossop

Lecture set engineering geology along the path of developing geomodels for use in understanding the ground conditions pertaining to engineering construction The National Union Catalog, Pre-1956 Imprints Library of Congress, American Library Association.
