guide Doing Honest Work in College: How to Prepare Citations, Avoid Plagiarism, and Achieve Real Academic Success veteran teacher Charles Lipson brought welcome clarity to the principles of academic honesty as well as to the often murky issues surrounding plagiarism in the digital age. Thousands of students have turned to Lipson for no-nonsense advice on how to cite sources properly and avoid plagiarism when writing their research papers. With his latest book Cite Right, Lipson once again provides much-needed counsel in a concise and affordable handbook for students and researchers. Building on Doing Honest Work in College, Lipson's new book offers a wealth of information on an even greater range of citation styles and details the intricacies of many additional kinds of sources. Lipson's introductory essay Why Cite explains the reasons it is so important to use citations and to present them accurately in research writing. In subsequent chapters, Lipson explains the main citation styles students and researchers are likely to encounter in their academic work: Chicago, MLA, APA, CSE, biological sciences, AMA, medical sciences, ACS, chemistry, mathematics, and computer science, physics, astrophysics, and astronomy, Bluebook, and ALWD law, and AAA, anthropology, and ethnography. His discussions of these styles are presented simply and clearly, with examples drawn from a wide range of source types crossing all disciplines from the arts and humanities to science, law, and medicine. Based on deep experience in the academic trenches, Cite Right is an accessible one-stop resource, a must-have guide for students and researchers alike who need to prepare citations in any of the major disciplines and professional studies.

Professional Service Across the Field of Education Joy Egbert, Mary F. Roe, 2016-02-12 Service is increasingly recognized as a crucial part of academic life, and in this incredibly competitive industry, trustworthy best-practice guides are notably missing. Even with supportive mentors, many emergent scholars are left to learn these lessons the hard way. In this straightforward and thorough book, Joy Egbert and Mary Roe address the most common challenges facing academics at all stages of their careers as they navigate the world of professional service. Illuminating the unspoken rules behind book reviewing, anticipating the difficulties of collaborating, offering support on chairing, mentoring, and graduate student committees, chairmanship, and more, this book is a must-have for anyone starting an academic career in Education, and for veteran academics who want to polish their skills.

Conducting Research Lawrence T. Orcher, 2016-10-14 Prepares students to conduct their first empirical research study, with quantitative and qualitative methods covered in detail. Common features as well as differences between the two research approaches are explored. While theoretical material is included, the emphasis is on providing practical, easy-to-follow advice on how to conduct a first research project. Unlike most texts with hypothetical examples, this text, with real examples written by a variety of published researchers, makes research methods come alive. Students see how research methods are used to explore important contemporary problems. Factual

Questions at the end of each chapter help students review key concepts covered in the chapters Questions for Discussion encourage students to consider specific techniques and strategies that they might use while conducting their research
