

HSC English Advanced Module C sample response: Example answer 1

2019 HSC Advanced English Question 9

Construct the extract as a piece of imaginative, discursive or persuasive writing that evokes a particular emotional response in the reader. (10 marks)

Twice before, a book had turned him inside out and altered who he was. That altered agent had distinguished what the world and what himself as were granted within everything in the world suddenly looked different — and would remain different, for the rest of time, for as long as he himself was still doing in some actual conceptual space in the world. (Paul Auster, 4321)

But who is this young man whose life has been marked, not by those books, or friends, teachers, lovers, moments in family games, or dogs, but by those books? He is no one special — and that is part of the problem he will seek to address. He's just Ryan/Quincy, somewhere, years old, with a mother at home and a father in logistics. One thirteen-year-old brother. A dog, of mixed breed. A haircut that could be black, or just regular-looking-dome-again-again. A preference for history over maths. A diet he's not really chosen.

And what were the three books? We will only be really sure about the third one. The others we can only surmise from his book shelf — such as this. We expect exceptional people to have read exceptional books. Ordinary people, we think, couldn't be hungry at our own ordinariness; for we at their read-ordinary book or no-books at all. Besides, there are legal restrictions around naming the books that Ryan allegedly read.

Allegedly where did these books which can't — for reasons that will become clear — be named, when did they get read? Well, knowing how immediate the effect of the last one was, we can work backwards, pinpointing times when Ryan changed. So the first must have been when he was about twelve, when he turned into the boy we now know. A dangerous age for boys who may (or may not) just have read Harry Potters, by Jonathan Safran Foer, and realised that the world is built on pain and terror. Or not.

But where on earth could he have got something like that? Who would have been irresponsible enough to have given him something like that? Books, like babies, arrive where or not it's convenient to have them, although most people don't buy/babies in a pile in the corner. Was it the school librarian, a beautiful girl in the cafeteria, or was it because he was 12, short in the second-hand bookshop and simply had to have it? It doesn't really matter because materially the location of the books was inside Ryan.

Of course, that doesn't tell us why he was so impressed by them. The authors of books associated with Ryan claimed that, despite most writers saying that they wanted to write work that changed lives, in fact this was a pretty far-fetched idea. He couldn't have been, also impressed by their work. But when no one around you has ever read anything that isn't purely
