of twenty one Australian language teachers in all describe teachers own linguistic and cultural personal and professional narratives and how each narrative has informed the construction of their classroom language teaching practice to suit their teaching contexts We see how teachers make individual responses to emerging pedagogies developed through the lens of their personal experience and understanding of language and culture In our invitations to these teachers to contribute chapters to the book we have encouraged them to make visible the diversity within the Australian language teaching context This is a new resource for use in a professional development context for pre service teachers in service teachers tertiary teacher educators and researchers This resource will serve as a practical text for teachers to draw on to extend their own professional knowledge and classroom practice in relevant useful and diverse areas The narratives can be examined as case studies of teacher identity and life worlds development of pedagogies intercultural learning and the differentiation and adaptation needed in particular environments within a diverse environment such as Australia   Trust in the system Adam Hedgecoe,2020-12-15 Based on extensive observations interviews and archival research this book provides an in depth insight into one of the most crucial forms of regulation around medical research Research Ethics Committees Every month groups of people from all over the United Kingdom decide what kind of research should be carried out on patients within the National Health Service These groups Research Ethics Committees RECs made up of doctors nurses researchers and members of the general public help shape the future of medicine and play a crucial role in the regulation of a wide range of research from social science to epidemiology vaccine and drugs trials and surgery In providing one of the first empirical examinations of this kind of regulation this book highlights how despite the trappings of a modern regulatory system REC decision making revolves around outdated aspects of social life Hedgecoe argues that an accurate understanding of this kind of regulation requires an acceptance of the inherently social nature of the processes involved In placing trust at the centre of ethics decision making this book challenges the impersonal de socialised and mechanical models of REC decision making that dominate mainstream accounts and documents the subtle messy and complex way in which these bodies decide what kind of research should take place   The Next Phase in Heritage Language Studies: Methodological Considerations and Advancements Fatih Bayram,Maki Kubota,Sergio Miguel Pereira Soares,2024-03-27 Over the past three decades studies investigating heritage speaker HS linguistic competencies have shown time and again that despite being L1 or 2L1 native speakers of their home language s HS outcomes display variation across a wide spectrum of differences as compared to each other other types of bilinguals as well as their monolingual peers Studies have traditionally used mostly behavioral methodologies rooted in adjacent established fields e g L1 acquisition adult L2 acquisition offering in addition to documenting and describing HS performance important insights for linguistic theory and challenges related to home minority language maintenance contact policy and more A birds eye view makes it clear that the methodologies one uses to tap into HSs linguistic knowledge areas if not more are important than the phenomena under investigation especially in light of how their unique experiences with their heritage and other languages are present across a continuum Information and Communication Technologies, Society and Human Beings: Theory and Framework (Festschrift in honor of Gunilla Bradley) Haftor, Darek,Mirijamdotter, Anita,2010-07-31 Information and Communication Technologies Society and Human Beings Theory and Framework addresses the extensive area of effects of ICT on human beings and the interaction between ICT individuals organizations and society This premier reference source features contributions from over 45 distinguished researchers from around the world each presenting high quality research on Social Informatics Human Computer Interaction Organizational Behavior and Macro ergonomics This unique publication is perfect for students teachers researchers engineers practitioners managers policy makers and media alike International Literary Market Place ,2002

COVID-19 Challenges to University Information Technology Governance Mansoor Alaali,2022-10-31 The purpose of this book is to provide a model that speaks specifically to adopting Information Technology Governance ITG and University Governance processes Utilizing numerous studies investigations and research on IT and University Governance and adapting previous and future proposed models for the current pandemic the book speaks specifically to adopting effective ITG and University Governance processes The book comprises a number of chapters contributed by leading international authors which analyze all aspects of IT and University Governance in relation to their impact on strategies in Finance Sustainability Academic Research Students and Faculty Leadership Campus Employment and Recruitment Quality Assurance External and Industrial Relations Internationalization Transformation and Board and Scholarship Findings from the research conducted by these leading authors provide solutions for higher education institutions in planning and allocating IT resources managing the ownership of IT and other business projects while developing strategic committees and providing appropriate governance within the context of institutional objectives Shakespearean Spaces in Australian Literary Adaptations for Children and Young Adults Michael Marokakis,2022-07-29 Shakespearean Spaces in Australian Literary Adaptations for Children and Young Adults offers a comprehensive examination of Shakespearean adaptations written by Australian authors for children and Young Adults The 20 year period crossing the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries came to represent a diverse and productive era of adapting Shakespeare in Australian literature As an analysis of Australian and international marketplaces physical and imaginative spaces and the body as a site of meaning this book reveals how the texts are ideologically bound to and disseminate Shakespearean cultural capital in contemporary ways Combining current research in children s literature and Bourdieu s theory of cultural capital deepens the critical awareness of the status of Australian literature while illuminating a corpus of literature underrepresented by the pre existing concentration on adaptations from other parts of the world Of particular interest is how these adaptations merge Shakespearean worlds with the spaces inhabited by young people such as the classroom the stage the imagination and the gendered body The readership of this book would be academics researchers and students of children s literature studies and Shakespeare studies particularly those interested in Shakespearean cultural theory transnational adaptation and literary appropriation High school educators and pre service teachers would also find this book valuable as they look to broaden and strengthen their use of adaptations to engage students in Shakespeare studies   Language Education in the School Curriculum Ken Cruickshank,Stephen Black,Honglin Chen,Linda Tsung,Jan Wright,2020-05-14 There is widespread concern in all English speaking countries at the rapid decline in study of languages The promise of languages for all in the UK and North America in the 1970s marked a shift from languages as lite subjects for the privileged few but this promise has not been fulfilled This book explores the reasons for and solutions to this decline More importantly it looks at how these trends have been reversed in successful school programs and the implications of this for language education policy makers The study draws on an analysis of data from 600 primary secondary and community languages schools over six years and from detailed case studies in a representative sample of 45 successful schools The book proposes a range of strategies to address the decline from engaging classroom learning assessment outcomes and embedding languages as central in school curriculum on the one level to a mix of incentives and mandation for language study especially at upper secondary school level The authors explore the impact of learning languages on the thinking educational experiences and outcomes of young people across a range of ethnic backgrounds and socioeconomic statuses They show the importance of having equal access to languages study in a world where young people will have increasingly more diverse working lives and argue that the gap in languages between policy and uptake is really a gap in the thinking of policy makers and government
