Lesser Spotted Britain:

Lesser Spotted Britain Dominic Greyer, 2015-07-30 Photographer Dominic Greyer has spent the last twenty years roaming the British landscape in search of the country's most unusual placenames. He has an eye for quirky, rude and downright ridiculous name signs and has photographed them all. But this is not merely a book of silly placenames; Dominic's exquisite atmospheric photography featuring the landscapes in which the signs sit makes the images really special, and this book is a beautiful gift package. Placenames include the famous Twice Brewed, Northumberland Fryup, North Yorkshire Long Length, Kent and Camptown Borders. There will be a few rude street names too: Lady Gardens, Great Gays, Bell End and Giant's Ring, for example. The author runs a successful gift business featuring his photography on mugs, coasters, placemats, fridge magnets, anything you'd want to see a photograph of, a funny signpost on really. This book makes the perfect gift for anyone who loves the quirky side of the country. RSPB Spotlight Woodpeckers Gerard Gorman, 2018-10-04 Woodpeckers are fascinating birds, filling our forests with their unmistakable drumming and capturing our imaginations with their incredible ability to drill holes in trees and their bright, colourful plumage. Three species of woodpecker are resident in the UK: the Green Woodpecker, often seen on lawns and in fields; the Great Spotted Woodpecker, a frequent visitor at garden bird feeders; and the tiny Lesser Spotted Woodpecker, sadly now in decline. The Wryneck, which twists its neck like a snake when threatened, also passes through the UK on its yearly migration and has captivated people throughout the ages. Gerard Gorman provides a close-up look at the lives of these birds, from their anatomy, diet and nesting habits to their iconic drumming behaviour. He also explores the relationship that humans have enjoyed with woodpeckers for centuries in folklore, myth and conservation, and gives tips on how to observe these wonderful birds in the wild. The Spotlight series introduces readers to the lives and behaviour of our favourite animals with eye-catching colour photographs and informative expert text.

Benedict Macdonald, 2019-04-08 WINNER OF THE WAINWRIGHT PRIZE FOR WRITING ON GLOBAL CONSERVATION

Winner of the Richard Jefferies Society and White Horse Book Shop Literary Prize splendid Guardian visionary New Statesman Rebirding takes the long view of Britain's wildlife decline from the early taming of our landscape and its long lost elephants and rhinos to fenland drainage the removal of cornerstone species such as wild cattle horses beavers and boar and forward in time to the intensification of our modern landscapes and the collapse of invertebrate populations It looks at key reasons why species are vanishing as our landscapes become ever more tamed and less diverse with wildlife trapped in tiny pockets of habitat It explores how Britain has uniquely relied on modifying farmland rather than restoring ecosystems in a failing attempt to halt wildlife decline The irony is that 94% of Britain is not built upon at all And with more nature loving voices than any European country we should in fact have the best not the most impoverished wildlife on our continent Especially when the rural economics of our game estates and upland farms are among the worst in Europe Britain is blessed with all the space it needs for an epic wildlife recovery The deer estates of the Scottish Highlands are twice the size of Yellowstone National Park Snowdonia is larger than the Maasai Mara The problem in Britain is not a lack of space It is that our precious space is uniquely wasted not only for wildlife but for people s jobs and rural futures too Rebirding maps out how we might finally turn things around rewilding our national parks restoring natural ecosystems and allowing our wildlife a far richer future In doing so an entirely new sector of rural jobs would be created finally bringing Britain s dying rural landscapes and failing economies back to life
