

Proofs Involving CPCTC

How to fix your car...

Okay, remember that to use CPCTC (Corresponding Parts of Congruent Triangles are Congruent), it's like saying that the carburetor from a '57 Chevy will be the same as the carburetor from another '57 Chevy. But, if you have two carburetors from two unknown cars, who knows if they are same or not? Okay, maybe a experienced mechanic could tell, but not me.

So remember, BEFORE YOU USE CPCTC YOU MUST PROVE THAT THE TRIANGLES IN QUESTION ARE CONGRUENT FIRST!!

Let's analyze a couple of these, and then we will get to practicing...

Ex. 1.

Given: $AB \cong DE$, $\angle A \cong \angle D$, and $AC \cong DF$

Prove: $\angle C \cong \angle F$

Statements	Reasons
1. $AB \cong DE$	1. Given
2. $\angle A \cong \angle D$	2. Given
3. $AC \cong DF$	3. Given
R2: 4. $\triangle ABC \cong \triangle DEF$	4. SAS
R1: 5. $\angle C \cong \angle F$	5. CPCTC

Analysis:

Working backwards, the statement "Prove: $\angle C \cong \angle F$ " begs the key question "How can we show two segments from two different triangles are congruent?" The answer? CPCTC. This means that if we can prove the triangles are congruent then $\angle C \cong \angle F$ because they are corresponding parts of congruent triangles. So R1: $\angle C \cong \angle F$ by CPCTC. This then begs the second key question, "How can I show two triangles are congruent?" This means R2 will be $\triangle ABC \cong \triangle DEF$ by some congruence property. Which one? Now we work forward and see we have, $AB \cong DE$, $\angle A \cong \angle D$, and $AC \cong DF$ which are all given. This means $\triangle ABC \cong \triangle DEF$, which is R2, and the proof is complete.

Ex. 2.

Given: $GH \parallel IJ$, $\angle G \cong \angle H$

Prove: $GI \cong HJ$

Statements	Reasons
1. $GH \parallel IJ$	1. Given
2. $\angle G \cong \angle H$	2. Given
3. $\angle HGI \cong \angle IJH$	3. Alternate Interior
4. $GI \cong HJ$	4. Reflexive Property
R2: 5. $\triangle GHI \cong \triangle HJG$	5. ASA
R1: 6. $GI \cong HJ$	6. CPCTC

Analysis:

Working backwards, the statement "Prove: $GI \cong HJ$ " begs the key question "How can we show two segments from two different triangles are congruent?" The answer? CPCTC. This means that if we can prove the triangles are congruent then $GI \cong HJ$ because they are corresponding parts of congruent triangles. So R1: $GI \cong HJ$ by CPCTC. This then begs the second key question, "How can I show two triangles are congruent?" This means R2 will be $\triangle GHI \cong \triangle HJG$ by some congruence property. Which one? Now we work forward and see we have $GH \parallel IJ$, and $\angle G \cong \angle H$, given. We know when we see parallel lines we look for alternate interior or corresponding angles. We have alternate interior angles $\angle HGI \cong \angle IJH$. We also have GI as a shared side. This means $\triangle GHI \cong \triangle HJG$ by ASA, which is R2, and the proof is complete.

Nonparametric Statistics on Manifolds and Their Applications to Object Data Analysis Victor Patrangenaru, Leif Ellingson, 2015-09-18 A New Way of Analyzing Object Data from a Nonparametric Viewpoint Nonparametric Statistics on Manifolds and Their Applications to Object Data Analysis provides one of the first thorough treatments of the theory and methodology for analyzing data on manifolds It also presents in depth applications to practical problems arising in a variety of fields

Algebraic Geometry II: Cohomology of Schemes Ulrich Görtz, Torsten Wedhorn, 2023-11-22 This book completes the comprehensive introduction to modern algebraic geometry which was started with the introductory volume Algebraic Geometry I Schemes It begins by discussing in detail the notions of smooth unramified and tale morphisms including the tale fundamental group The main part is dedicated to the cohomology of quasi coherent sheaves The treatment is based on the formalism of derived categories which allows an efficient and conceptual treatment of the theory which is of crucial importance in all areas of algebraic geometry After the foundations are set up several more advanced topics are studied such as numerical intersection theory an abstract version of the Theorem of Grothendieck Riemann Roch the Theorem on Formal Functions Grothendieck s algebraization results and a very general version of Grothendieck duality The book concludes with chapters on curves and on abelian schemes which serve to develop the basics of the theory of these two important classes of schemes on an advanced level and at the same time to illustrate the power of the techniques introduced previously The text contains many exercises that allow the reader to check their comprehension of the text present further examples or give an outlook on further results

Modern Geometry with Applications George A. Jennings, 1997-06-12 This introduction to modern geometry differs from other books in the field due to its emphasis on applications and its discussion of special relativity as a major example of a non Euclidean geometry. Additionally it covers the two important areas of non Euclidean geometry spherical geometry and projective geometry as well as emphasising transformations and conics and planetary orbits. Much emphasis is placed on applications throughout the book which motivate the topics and many additional applications are given in the exercises. It makes an excellent introduction for those who need to know how geometry is used in addition to its formal theory.

Handbook of the History and Philosophy of Mathematical Practice Bharath Sriraman, 2024-04-26 The purpose of this unique handbook is to examine the transformation of the philosophy of mathematics from its origins in the history of mathematical practice to the present. It aims to synthesize what is known and what has unfolded so far as well as to explore directions in which the study of the philosophy of mathematics as evident in increasingly diverse mathematical practices is headed. Each section offers insights into the origins, debates, methodologies, and newer perspectives that characterize the discipline today. Contributions are written by scholars from mathematics, history, and philosophy as well as other disciplines that have contributed to the richness of perspectives abundant in the study of philosophy today who describe various mathematical practices throughout different time periods and contrast them with the development of philosophy.

1941-2024 This book with its exciting depth and breadth illuminates us about the history, practice, and the very language of our subject about the role of abstraction, of proof, and manners of proof about the interplay of fundamental intuitions about algebraic thought in contrast to geometric thought. The richness of mathematics and the philosophy encompassing it is splendidly exhibited over the wide range of time these volumes cover from deep platonic and neoplatonic influences to the most current experimental approaches. Enriched as well with vivid biographies and brilliant personal essays written by and about people who play an important role in our tradition, this extraordinary collection of essays is fittingly dedicated to the memory of Chandler Davis, Reuben Hersch, and Yuri Manin.
